SNOW PLAGUES EAST; TRAVELING STILL TOUGH

Heavy snow which accumulated to from 6 to 9 inches in southcentral and southeastern Nebraska is ending Wednesday but the problems it brought are just beginning.

Winds averaging between 20-30 m.p.h. drifted most rural roads closed, canceling school buses Tuesday and closing many smaller community schools early.

Over 40 schools in the southeastern area canceled Wednesday classes.

State maintenance engineer, John McMeekin, warned against travel in the area south of a line through Lincoln and Holdrege until the winds die down.

Lincoln's air, bus and train schedules weathered the latest snowstorm well. Air flights, canceled briefly Tuesday afternoon, were resumed Tuesday evening and Wednesday.

Buses from the south were as late as two hours in arriving in Lincoln, but all scheduled runs out of Lincoln left on schedule. Train schedules were not affected by the snow, officials reported.

Highways in the area are drifting shut almost as soon as plows can open them, and one-way travel around drifts are common.

Closed Roads

Nebraska highways closed late Tuesday included: 3S from Fairbury west; 4 from Daykin west to Neb. 14; 74 between Western and Ayr; 41 east and west of Geneva. Many more roads are expected to be closed by Wednesday, McMeekin said.

Considerable drifting was also reported in the Columbus area in northeastern Nebraska.

Visibility in the heavy snow area ranged from a quarter to an 8th of a mile, and at times was zero, weather bureau stations reported.

Wednesday forecasts are for light snow in the extreme southwest and extreme west through Wednesday night with temperatures rising to 5 to 10-degree highs in the northeast and 10 to 15 elsewhere.

Chadron recorded the state high temperature Tuesday with a cool 18 degrees. The mercury did not rise above 9 in Norfolk and 12 in Lincoln Tuesday afternoon.

New Snow

The new snowstorm, which fell on old snow depths of one to 8 inches, brought the following new snow to Nebraska communities:

Auburn	6	Lincoln	2
Beatrice	8	Minden	5
Fairbury	9	Red Cloud	4

5-STATE AREA HIT BY SNOW

By Associated Press

A fresh snow storm blew northeast out of the midcontinent Tuesday and brought near blizzard conditions, almost zero visibility and clogged highways to much of Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa.

Sweeping through states already beset by a heavy weekend fall, the new snow measured almost 12 inches in parts of Kansas where it drifted heavily, up to 5 inches in northwest Oklahoma and 6 inches in parts of Missouri.

Hill City, Kan., reported an 11-inch fall, Garden City and Dodge City 5 inches and Wichita, Russell and Salina, 4 inches.

BRAZILIANS LIKE IKE

. . . 'Vivas' Exchanged

Brasilia, Brazil (AP) — President Eisenhower and Brazil's President Juscelino Kubitschek stood in the midst of a surging crowd Tuesday and pledged their nations to the defense of the Western Hemisphere's peace and prospertiy.

The two chiefs of state signed a declaration shortly after Eisenhower arrived from Puerto Rico. This new capital of Brazil is his first stop on a tour of 4 South American countries.

A bit later the two laid the cornerstone of the new U.S. embassy here. When they had spread the mortar, Kubitschek grabbed a microphone and shouted:

"Viva the United States."

Fledgling City

This new capital — not yet completed but already spectacular — is being carved from the wilderness. It has a population of only 80,000—nearly all construction workers and their families.

It seemed that all 80,000 and perhaps many more from the outlying area turned out to give Eisenhower a boisterous welcome.

The signing of the document took place in front of the monument which will commemorate the American President's visit.

While crowds pushed to within a foot of the official party, the declaration was read by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Brazil's Foreign Minister Horacio Lafer.

Throughout Eisenhower's tour of the capital, there were "We Like Ike" chants by youngsters who crowded the roadsides and waved small U.S. and Brazilian flags.

Eisenhower's associates said they believe his 3-day tour of Brazil will turn into a personal triumph rivaling his reception in Asia two months ago.

Airport Amenities

Reviewing an honor guard, Eisenhower gave unsmiling, careful inspection to the troops, once backing up a few steps to get a better look. He complimented the Brazilian commander.

Eisenhower shook hands with ambassadors who had flown here from Rio de Janeiro to meet him. Then he and Kubitschek took off in Eisenhower's bubble car, flown here in advance.

"Your decision to carve a beautiful city out of the wilderness reminds us of our own decision many years ago to move the capital of our fledgling nation from Philadelphia to the District of Columbia," he said.

Martin Buys 1st National Bank Bldg.

The First National Bank Building at 10th and O has been purchased by Bennett S. Martin, it was announced Tuesday.

Transfer of ownership will take place July 1.

Terms of the sale were not made known.

Plans have not yet been completed as to occupancy of the building's first 3 floors and lower lobby, Martin said. They are presently occupied by The First National Bank.

The remaining 5 floors are fully occupied by tenants.

To Consolidate

Consolidation of The First National Bank and the Continental National Bank—which is subject to approval by bank stockholders and the final approval of the Comptroller of the Currency—is planned for March 12.

The building sale is made subject to approval and accomplishment of the consolidation.

Equipment and facilities of The First National Bank will then be moved to the new Continental National Bank Building at 12th and N.

Martin said he hopes to make an announcement soon as to the occupancy of the lower floors.

Long active in business and civic affairs, Martin is a former mayor of Lincoln. He also holds ownership of The Trust Building at 10th and O and the Lindell Hotel at 13th and M.

The 8-story structure was constructed in 1911 by The First National Bank and was fully air-conditioned in 1936.

Cost of original construction was $325,000.

U.S. Hesitant To Accept Cuban Bid To Negotiate

Washington (AP)—American officials Tuesday saw a catch in Havana's new proposal for U.S.-Cuban negotiations. They decided to make a careful study before replying.

The catch is a Cuban demand which would commit the United States in advance to make no change in its sugar buying system while the talks are going on, unless Cuba consented.

Cuba gets a $150 million premium for its sugar sold to Uncle Sam under the present law. The law is up for renewal this year, and moves are under way in Congress to hit back at Cuba's Fidel Castro regime for its anti-U.S. line.

U.S. diplomats, while welcoming the idea of negotiating on the many frictions between Washington and Havana, could not agree to this demand.

Note To Embassy

The Cuban proposal was handed to the U.S. embassy in Havana Monday in the form of a 3-paragraph diplomatic note.

It said Cuba has decided to name a commission to go to Washington at a mutually agreeable time to negotiate "on matters pending between Cuba and the United States of America."

U.S. experts want to know more about what Castro intends to discuss at the talks. This government wants to talk about seizure of U.S. property in Cuba, restrictions against U.S. exports to that country and the Castro regime's vilification of the United States. The Cuban note listed no specific topics.

Mystery Satellite Believed Ejected Discoverer Capsule

Washington (UPI) — The Defense Department said Tuesday the "mystery satellite" circling the earth probably is the capsule of America's Discoverer V space vehicle launched last Aug. 13.

The department touched off a furor Feb. 10 when it said the unidentified object girdling the earth in a polar orbit "may be of Soviet origin."

The announcement led to speculation that Russia might have secretly launched a "seeing eye" satellite to spy on this country.

Tuesday's statement said: "On the basis of analysis to date, it is believed that this vehicle most probably is the ejected recovery capsule of Discoverer V launched into polar orbit in August."

Only 2 Feet Long

The department said analysis indicates the mystery object is about 3 feet in diameter and two feet in length, the size of the Discoverer V capsule.

The capsule separated from its launcher on Aug. 14, according to radio telemetry information.

No evidence of the capsule's return to earth has ever been reported. The carrier of Discoverer V also went into orbit, but re-entered the atmosphere and burned up last Sept. 28.

"This capsule was programmed to be ejected downward and backward by a retro-rocket . . ." the department said.

Directions Off

"It is known that the Discoverer V capsule was ejected. However, the carrier rocket probably was not in the proper position for ejection towards the earth.

"The energy imparted by the retro-rocket was such as to provide an orbit similar to that of the unidentified satellite."

The Air Force has fired 10 Discoverer satellite rockets. Six have gone into orbit, but the Air Force has not yet been successful in attempts to recover capsules ejected from these space vehicles.

Prosecutor Post Goes To Lahners

Ronald D. Lahners, 26, was appointed as Lincoln's first full-time prosecuting attorney by the City Council Tuesday.

Lahners will begin his full-time duties on June 1, but will serve an interim period as assistant prosecutor on a part-time basis.

At that time, City Procecutor Tom Gorham, who is serving on a part-time basis, will move into the assistant post.

Lahners, a 1959 graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law and presently in private practice, will receive $6,750 annually in the new full-time post.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson, who with Mayor Pat Boyles, had recommended a full-time prosecutor, said the post would enable greater attention to be given the more serious cases in the handling of the city's load of 14,000 cases annually.

Law Holds Mother In Tot's Death

. . . AUTOPSY HELD

Police are holding a 23-year-old woman in connection with the death of a baby girl found at a West O trailer court Tuesday afternoon.

Results of an autopsy held on the dead child Tuesday would not be released until further investigation, Acting County Attorney Paul Douglas said.

Douglas said the woman has admitted giving birth to the child Jan. 29. He said the woman, who admitted she was unmarried, told him that the father of the child was a Lincoln man.

Sheriff's office officials found the dead girl Tuesday but Douglas refused to comment on how the discovery was made.

Late Tuesday night police were giving the arrested woman lie detector tests but results of these were not released.

'Sitdown Melee' Blocks Traffic

Chattanooga, Tenn. (UPI) — A lunch counter "sitdown" protest by Negro high school students erupted Tuesday into fighting among a pushing crowd of 2,000 that blocked traffic in downtown Chattanooga for half an hour.

Two persons, a Negro man and a white youth, were hospitalized and a dozen persons arrested on disorderly conduct charges before police could disperse the crowd.

Workers getting off work, swelled the crowd to some 2,000, police said. Officers stopped all downtown traffic and called out all available patrol cars to break up the disturbance. Order was restored after two hours.

At Winston-Salem, N.C., white college students joined Negroes Tuesday in "sitdown" lunch counter protests and 22 youths of both races were arrested.

Between 70 and 100 Negro demonstrators were joined by a group of white students from Wake Forest college, a Baptist school, and 10 whites and 12 Negroes were arrested.

Those arrested were booked on trespassing charges. They were released under $100 bonds.

The white students told newsmen their participation was "not to stir up trouble but to show the Negroes that some whites have enough concern to act other than in prejudice."

House Trims Postal Budget Despite Service Cut Threat

. . . SUMMERFIELD DRAWS HARSH WORDS

Washington (UPI) — The House Tuesday slashed $82 million from the Post Office Department's record-breaking new budget despite a threat by the Postmaster General to retaliate by drastically curtailing mail service.

Not only did the House defy postal chief Arthur E. Summerfield, but it made clear it wanted him to provide better mail service for its own members. It approved 80-26 a request for improved handling of mass mailings which Congressmen send out free to their constituents.

The actions came as the House, by voice vote, passed and sent to the Senate a bill carrying a total of $4,795,414,000 for the Post Office and Treasury Departments and the U.S. Tax Court in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Still Biggest Ever

Even with the reduction, the House allowed the postal service $3,971,000,000 its biggest appropriation in history and an increase of $104,590,000 over its current budget.

In addition to the postal fund cut, the House provided funds for only 900 of 2900 new tax agents sought by the Internal Revenue Service, an arm of the Treasury Department. Administration backers claimed this slash would cost the government $300 million in taxes that otherwise would be collected.

Before the House acted, Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-NJ) warned that Summerfield meant what he said in threatening Monday to reduce postal services if Congress did not give him more money than the House bill carried.

Arthur Has Edge

Canfield reminded his colleagues that in a similar situation in 1957 Summerfield made good on another threat by closing post offices on Saturday. The House later capitulated by giving Summerfield more funds.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va), chairman of an appropriations committee that recommended Tuesday's cut, accused Summerfield of "bureaucratic paranoia" and attempts to intimidate Congress. He said Summerfield and other administration officials were suffering from "delusions of grandeur concerning their departments.

Film Guild Calls March 7 Strike

The action followed a ballot in which nearly 90% of the membership—from top star to bit player—voted to authorize negotiations to call a strike against the major studios.

Board Reaffirms Stand Against Trailer Courts

The Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday reaffirmed its stand that trailer courts create a serious problem for the school district.

Board members pointed out that trailer house owners are not carrying a fair share of the tax load, and at the same time, they cause increased enrollment of already-overcrowded schools.

The board outlined their long-standing position in reply to a request of the Capital Real Estate Co., represented by Frank Workman and Attorney Max Kier, asking the board to withdraw its protest to the City Council and City Zoning Commission against expansion of the Pine Acres Trailer Court, 4200 Cornhusker.

Add 105 Units

Kier and Workman pointed out that the expansion would increase the court from the present 10 trailers to 115 units.

Dr. Watkins said the board made the protest because it lacks school facilities to accommodate the increased number of pupils in the area and youngsters crossing Cornhusker Highway creates a safety hazard.

Another court, consisting of another court, consisting of 138 units, in the same area has 45 youngsters enrolled in public schools, 11 in parochial schools, and at the present time has 56 pre-school-age children, Dr. Watkins said.

School Crowded

Elementary school-age children in the area attend Huntington School, which has a present enrollment of 808. The capacity of 825 is expected to be passed next year, Dr. Watkins added.

Workman suggested the construction of an overpass or policing to solve the safety problem, and incorporation of the area into the city limits to provide the necessary funds.

Board members present were Robert Venner, Mrs. Roscoe Hill, I. J. Devoe and Warren Parker. J. Arthur Danielson and Robert Ammon were absent.

LumberYard Tax Policies To Continue

The State Board of Equalization voted Tuesday to continue its policy that accounts receivable and other intangibles of branch lumber yards must be taxed in the county in which the branch is located, rather than in the county where the headquarters is located.

The policy was one of 3 tax situs cases settled at a special Board of Equalization meeting called at the suggestion of the Attorney General's office.

A tax situs is the political subdivision in which any property is taxed, and is most often an issue in the case of mobile or movable property which crosses county lines.

Lancaster Case

The branch lumber yard decision stemmed from a case in Lancaster County involving Searle & Chapin Lumber Co. which has its home office in Lincoln, with branches in Otoe, Cass, Brown, Sheridan and Morrill counties.

The Lancaster County Assessor's office had attempted to tax all intangibles of the firm in Lancaster County.

Other decisions:

In the tax situs case over a cattle dispute between Cherry and Brown Counties involving 575 cattle, the board ruled that each county should tax that amount since evidence indicated the owner had more cattle mortgaged than he had reported for assessment.

In a tax situs case between Cherry and Hooker counties involving motor vehicles, the board re-affirmed its policy that motor vehicles should be taxed in the county in which the owner maintains his residence.

The board held that in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the residence shall be determined as the place where the property owner exercises his voting privileges.

Under this policy, the board determined motor vehicles should remain taxable in Cherry County.

Bond Buying 'Enticements' May Be Axed

Washington — It is reasonable to assume that Treasury long-term bonds may soon attract buyers without "the enticement of rates above the present ceiling," Rep. Larry Brock said Tuesday.

The Wakefield Democrat noted that the House Ways and Means Committee is now considering various proposals tending to increase the current 4½% interest rate on long-term government bonds.

"The 4½% interest rate has stood the test of time," Brock noted. "It has lasted through two world wars and the economic depression of the 1930's."

Further, the 3rd District congressman said: "The sale of long-term bonds at highly-inflated costs, particularly when interest rates are at a 35-year high, would unnecessarily add billions to the taxpayers' present burdens and further inflate all other interest rates as well."

Chicago (UPI) — Some 1,300 union members have returned to work at 7 Wilson & Co. meatpacking plants following last week's settlement of a 106-day strike, the company said.

A 3-man arbitration board is to decide whether 3,300 other strikers who have been accused of strike violence or whose jobs have been filled get their jobs back.

Johnson Eyes Speedup If No Early CR Vote

His threat promptly set off a floor ruckus. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), the leader of the Southern block fighting civil rights bills, denounced Johnson's plan as "legislative regimentation."

"Two can play this game," he told Johnson. If Johnson insists on 24-hour sessions, he said, the Southerners will demand quorum calls calling for the attendance of senators "at awkward hours." He said the Southerners will resist the speedup move "to the limit of their abilities."

Russell told the Senate the Southerners "shall not complain about the onerous schedule" threatened by Johnson. He pledged full resistance to the "unwise and unnessary legislation."

HOUSE OKAYS MAN-IN-SPACE FUND BOOST

Washington (UP) — The House shouted its approval Tuesday of President Eisenhower's request for an additional $23,000,000 to avert a slowdown in the man-in-space program and revamp rocket launching pads at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

No dissenting voice was raised as the House passed the bill and sent it to the Senate where the Appropriations Committee heard civilian space chief T. Keith Glennan urge its prompt approval.

The bill carries $19,000,000 for the Mercury man-in-space program and $4,000,000 to modify Cape Canaveral's launching pads so they can handle new and more powerful rockets.

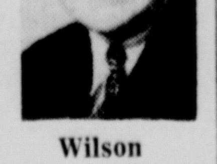
Wilson Is Named A-Commissioner

Washington (AP) — Robert E. Wilson, a chemical engineer much honored in industry and education, was named Tuesday to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.



Wilson

President Eisenhower chose Wilson, of Chicago, for the remainder of their term of the late Harold S. Vance, which ends June 30, and for a 5-year term beginning the next day.

Wilson, born in Beaver Falls, Pa., 66 years ago, graduated from the College of Wooster in Ohio and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Many colleges and universities have given him honorary degrees for his achievements as an industrial scientist, chemical engineer and inventor.

From 1945 until 1958, when he retired, he was chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. He is a Republican.

Wilson is a brother of the late Rev. Harold Wilson of Hastings, Neb., general missionary for the Synod of Nebraska of United Presbyterian Churches. The Rev. Mr. Wilson also served for a brief period as pastor of Eastridge Presbyterian Church, Lincoln.

Stork May Visit Whooping Cranes

New Orleans (AP) — Two celebrated whooping cranes, Josephine and Crip, are getting ready to hatch new family members in the Audubon Park Zoo.

Since Saturday, Jo has laid 3 eggs. Two have been placed in an incubator. The parents take turns setting on the other egg.

Park supt. George Douglass says there is a good chance that the 23-year-old Jo will lay another egg in the next few days.

There are only an estimated 30 whooping cranes in existence and only 5 living in captivity.

Flood Victims In Ceylon Need Aid

Colombo, Ceylon (AP) — The government asked the British aircraft carrier Centaur at Trincomalee to send helicopters to air drop food and supplies to more than 300 families homeless in floods in eastern Ceylon. After 72 hours of torrential rain, floods have destroyed about 35,000 acres of rice fields, cut off hundreds of villages and disrupted road, rail and telephone communications.

Seedsmen Told Space Exploration Important

"The orbit of the first sputnik is of far more importance to man than the Wright brothers' flight," Walter Behlen, a Columbus manufacturer, said.

Addressing the Nebraska Seedsmen Assn. convention in Lincoln, Behlen termed current interest in outer space "evidence of man's awakening," and likened man on the brink of space flight to a "baby becoming aware of its body."

He pointed out to the 90 seedsmen at a banquet that today's dreams may one day come to pass: human population of other planets, devices to reverse the force of gravity and overcome inertia, faster-than-light travel and time travel.

"Why explore space?" Behlen asked, "Don't we have enough problems on earth to solve?"

Columbus Similar

Similar questions were asked Christopher Columbus, he said, pointing out the results of the explorer's voyages.

"We don't know for sure what tomorrow may bring, but it's bound to be interesting," Behlen conluded.

On the seedsmen's Wednesday agenda are annual business, election of 1960 officers, and speeches by Mayor "Pat" Boyles; Pearle Finigan, state agriculture department head; Dr. Don Hanway, agronomy chairman at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture; Lloyd Kriener, seed division chief, state agriculture department; and Robert Pease, vice president of the Western Seedsmen Assn.

The annual Nebraska Seedsmen scholarship will be presented to Deon D. Stuthman, agronomy freshman of West Point.

Ground Water Study Groups Setup Asked

Gov. Ralph Brooks Tuesday asked State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. to review a request that study committees on ground water conservancy be established in 10 south-central Nebraska counties.

The request came earlier Tuesday from Sen. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora who expressed concern over the "tremendous load upon our underground water structure" imposed by pump irrigation in the area.

Jensen suggested that 5 or 7-member committees, including the extension agent, should be appointed by the governor in each of the 10 counties to do the following:

—Give immediate attention and study to the situation.

—Be empowered to stop abuse and misuse of water being used for irrigation purposes.

—Make recommendations to the 1961 Legislature on their findings, including proposed legislation toward a solution.

Neb. City Voters Nix Bond Issue

Lincoln Star Special

The vote was 885 for, 1,782 against, with 26 rejects.

The proposal was designed to provide funds for construction of a high school, grade school and for remodeling of the city's 6th Street school building.

It was the second voter rejection. The first came in 1954, according to County Clerk Lester L. Kinnison.

Central Union Conference Honors Dr. Cadwallader

Dr. E. M. Cadwallader was honored Tuesday evening at the biennial constituency meeting of the Central Union Conference for 40 years service as an instructor in 7th Day Adventist' schools.

Dr. Cadwallader has been at Union College since 1941. He plans to retire at the end of the spring semester.

He noted that in Russian schools they stress the instruction of those courses they currently need most.

Cossentine added he was amazed at how completely contacts between visitors and Russians are watched by the state.

Elected to 6-year terms on the conference board of directors were:

J. L. Dittberner of Lincoln, W. A. Dessain of Oklahoma City, Okla.; George H. Rusted of Albuquerque N.M.; C. G. Cross of Lincoln, H. E. Schneider of Fort Worth, Tex; I. M. Evans of Shreveport, La.; W. A. Howe of Lincoln, O. T. Moline of Denver, Colo.; L. C. Evans of Dallas, Tex.; Theodore Carcich of Lincoln and Dr. N. L. Beebe of Greeley, Colo.

Elected to a 4-year term was Guy Williamson of Casper, Wyo.

The other two-thirds of the board was not up for re-election.

City Approves Substation Site

. . . STRUCTURE PENDING

By Virgil Falloon

The City Council Tuesday approved the Consumers Public Power District application for permission to construct a power substation at 17th and Prospect.

Approval of the location was conditioned upon the council's final approval of an enclosing structure for the substation.

Some residents of the area had vigorously opposed the location and urged that Consumers obtain a suggested site on Garfield.

But, CPPD Manager Dale Renner told the council that the Prospect site was more desirable from a technical viewpoint and fitted in with City Light Dept. plans to construct a substation near 17th and Van Dorn.

Better Structure

In granting location approval, several council members said they felt that the enclosing structure for the substation could be architecturally improved.

The council deferred action on the proposed vacation of the west 100 feet of Benton between 47th and 48th.

The A & H Realty Co., which admittedly has an industrial building extending 10 feet into unimproved Benton street, requested the vacation.

Opposed

However, the vacation is being opposed by an abutting property owner and the council laid the matter over one week with the suggestion the opposing parties compromise their differences.

The City-County Planning Commission has recommended denial of the proposed vacation.

One council member suggested the infringement of the building on the city street should also be studied by the city attorney.

Introduced, 1st Reading

—Creating ornamental light district for 27th from Calvert to Pioneers and Calvert from 27th to Rock Island tracks. (Two readings given).

—Creating water district for Kearney from 66th to 68th and 66th from Colfax to Logan. (Two readings given.)

Passed, 3rd Reading

—Paving District 1644 for Judson from 8th to 10th and 9th from Adams to Fairfield.

—Acceptance of replat of Maurice Manor, 14 lots, near 70th and Orchard. (A & H Realty Co.)

All council members were present for the regular meeting.

Board Hears Protests On Assessments

Equalization hearings on 32 paving, water, sewer and other special assessment districts totaling $287,212.81 were held Tuesday by the City Council sitting as a board of equalization.

Councilman Hugh Thorne was named board chairman.

Several property owners appeared in objection to individual assessments and others are expected to appear Wednesday.

Major objection registered Tuesday was on a sewer district in which engineering and inspection costs represented 22% of the total compared with the normal 4 to 6%.

City Engineer Carl Fisher said increased costs resulted from insistance in the district that the project be done immediately.

The improvements districts included 14 paving, $176,752; 8 water, $58,509; 6 sewer, $27,024; and ornamental light for the University Place business district, $17,869.

Liquor Licenses Transfer By Legionnaire's 'Agreed'

Transfer of the Legionnaire Club's package liquor and on-sale beer license to its new club building at 5730 O on June 1 was informally agreed upon Tuesday by the City Council.

Atty. C. L. Clark said the club plans to move on June 1 and requested council assurance that the beer and liquor licenses operated on a private club basis would be transferred.

End Off-Sale

The Club presently holds an off-sale beer license also, but its officials agreed this one would be dropped in line with a departmental recommendation by City Safety Director Emmett Junge.

Clark said the club plans to dispose of its 1525 P building and recently-purchased lot at 1624 M, that had been proposed as a new building site, and has prospective buyers for both.

In connection with building plans on the M street lot, the council some months ago waived the off-street parking requirements for the zoned district.

The council has requested that City Atty. Ralph Nelson determine if the waiver of parking requirements can be revoked since the Legionnaire Club no longer intends to build on the lot.

Clark indicated the club had abandoned building plans for the 1624 M lot because of inability to obtain additional parking facilities.

Kennedy Names Aide For Foreign Affairs

Washington (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy has named Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn), former ambassador to India, as his chief foreign policy adviser in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Asserting that "the search for a just and durable peace is the basic issue of the 1960 campaign," the Massachusetts senator praised Bowles for being "in the forefront" of those advocating new policies to meet cold-war challenges.

City Council Apparently Will Take 'Wait And See' Policy On Housing

The City Council apparently will "wait and see" what interest develops in a suggested privately-financed $150,000 program for open-occupancy housing for Lincoln.

Mayor Pat Boyles said Tuesday that the city would await the reaction and interest of local builders and other representative groups toward the proposed program.

"If they aren't interested in the program," Boyles said, "then the city will probably take another look at public housing."

MCD Visits

Morris Milgram, president of Modern Community Developers Inc., Princeton, N.J., was here the past two days visiting with city officials, real estate and home building interests, and other groups concerning a locally-subscribed program to construct 100 units over a 3-year period.

MCD, which furnishes the "know-how" and partial financing, has developed open-occupancy housing projects in 6 states.

The MCD plan for open-occupancy housing development controls the ratio of integration of white and non-white owners or renters to assure that no discrimination results in the development because of race, color or creed.

The Mayor's Council on Human Relations has urged in recommendations on the Minority Housing Report that the city adopt an open-occupancy policy and that housing for minority groups be developed on an integrated basis.

In recent discussion with a Federal Housing Administration representative concerning public housing programs, the council was informed that any development constructed with federal funds must have open-occupancy provisions.

Mayor Boyles said that a private housing plan seemed to be the best approach for Lincoln and indicated Milgram's general program seemed to be favorably received by the council.

Well-Intentioned Start

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Maybe you think the Chamber of Commerce is not your cup of tea and maybe you find from time to time occasion to disagree with it but you can plan on one thing for 1960 — you will probably be hearing more from the local Chamber than you have ever heard before. The Chamber's 1960 program of work is an ambitious undertaking and is evidence of the fact that the group has thrown off any introversion it ever might have had.

Some will say this is bad and some will say it is good but to our way of thinking it cannot help but result in a better city. The program of work should also help dispel the old idea that the Chamber is a special interest group for leading Lincoln businessmen. For one thing, anybody who wants to can join the Chamber and work on one or more of its many committees. In doing this he can have as big a voice in things as anyone. But the program itself is aimed at the achievement of goals which will benefit every person in the community.

A Place For Everyone

What is actually needed is more of this kind of interest in civic affairs by all groups and individuals. The Chamber may or may not be particularly outstanding in itself but it is interested and is taking the time to do something about the things it believes should be done. Certainly, industrial expansion is not a reward for any special interests.

It brings new jobs to Lincoln, new payrolls and new economic activity in general. This is the kind of thing all people want as it is the only way the general economic level of the community is to be improved. If the economy as a whole does not grow, the parts of that economy — the individual wage earners — likewise will not improve their situation.

A great deal more time and careful planning will go into the Chamber's industrial program from here on out. It will be most surprising as well as disappointing if this expanded and improved effort does not produce concrete results within the next year or two. Also, the Chamber's Agricultural Committee plans to pursue actively a constructive legislative program — a program to be conceived after consultations with farm interests.

It plans, too, to take an active part in the development of better aviation facilities for the city. This is a vital area of concern for all of Lincoln because it is so closely related to industrial growth. Airport facilities must be adequate for handling the large type executive aircraft which service industry. If these facilities are not provided, whatever other assets the community has might be of no value whatsoever in many cases. This means that an early settlement of the airport site question is most important and that an immediate start be made on providing improved facilities.

The Chamber plans to take an active part in the entire field of city-county relationships, in the implementation of a new comprehensive city plan and in any movement toward urban renewal and rehabilitation. It plans to work actively in all fields of legislation, to assist in development of Lincoln parks and to promote flood control and conservation measures.

Two of its important areas of work will be in connection with street and highway matters and taxation. In many of these areas of work there will be violent controversy. But the Chamber is not so naive as to believe that it has an answer to every problem with which no one can argue. But with the Chamber actively and in the open working in these areas of local, state and national concern, the spotlight will be focused on the many problems that face us. In all, the Chamber's program of work includes some 100 items or issues and not one of them is without its share of importance.

Areas Needing Attention

And there is no doubt that a number of other specific problems could be added to the list the Chamber has established for itself. While its general statements of interest might include these things, there are such items as a state constitutional convention, state aid to education, reorganization of the state's administration of its institutions, a new Lincoln city library, mounting city sewer needs and other areas of concern which will get specific attention during the current year.

The program of work will be more than just a contribution toward the solution of the problems which face us today. The program also helps us to place things in their proper perspective by giving us some measure of the enormity of the task that is ours. The many areas of work discussed here offer ample proof of the fact that the future will demand of all of us understanding patience, determination and sacrifice.

A Growing Problem

Chicago's selection of Orlando W. Wilson, dean of the University of California's School of Criminology, as commissioner of that city's scandal-ridden police department is further evidence of the fact that crime in the United States is a matter of constantly growing concern. The F.B.I. has been warning for years that crime in the nation is increasing but situations generally have to reach alarming proportions, such as they have in Chicago, before any real action is taken to reverse the trend.

There can be no doubt that the day is gone when law-enforcement was simply a matter of having an adequate number of honest men on a police force to keep order in a community. Crime has grown in its complexity, size and cleverness and requires an equal growth in the caliber of law-enforcement agencies.

These agencies must be administered by men who are well trained in criminology and administration. Their departments must be backed by governing bodies which have a full realization of the importance of this arm of government. Fighting crime has already become a science in itself and will continue to grow in this direction. No longer can a city's law-enforcement agency afford to be second-rate in any area of its operation.

For the facts are that those who engage in the business of crime are as adept and skillful at their trade as is the successful banker or lawyer at his. Crime is generally well organized, well financed and ruthless. It will not be stopped by a law-enforcement agency hamstrung with low-caliber personnel and even a short supply of them. This is something of which Lincoln could stand a greater understanding and appreciation.

Pollution Bill Vetoed

It came as no surprise that President Eisenhower vetoed Congress' $900 million water pollution control bill. It is a matter about which the chief executive has frequently spoken in utmost candor and Congress was aware of the virtual certainty of a veto when it passed the measure.

The President, ever mindful of the budget, observed that pollution is a local blight and therefore is a concern of states and cities.

That is a forthright position, but as a piece of logic it won't scald. Floods on the Mississippi are likewise a local blight. So also are tornadoes. But there are local blights which at once rise above the locality's ability to conquer, and blights which, though they visit injury in an acute form at restricted points, have an injurious effect generally. Objection to federal aid against water pollution is no more valid than objections to other major resources problems, and the President's logic, if applied levelly, could take the federal interest out of every effort to conserve or develop the nation's resources.

The nation's water resources are limited while demand for them is increasing at a critical pace. The President has not succeeded in blocking their conservation. He has only postponed the inevitable day.

In delegating this piece of essential conservation to cities, principally, and states secondarily, the veto places the bulk of the program of water conservation on the least able government subdivision largely. Cities have but limited sovereignty, deriving most of their ability to act to measures passed by state legislatures. Moreover, their current tax and service burdens are already posing a national problem. It is quite unrealistic under the circumstances to direct an extensive burden to them that facts say can't be assumed.

The Joke That Failed

One of the great areas of American wit in the years gone by operated at the expense of the absent-minded professor. He was always the fellow who couldn't find his way home, or who ate the experimental frog instead of his lunch sandwich. Any reference to him could always be counted on for a big laugh.

Well, times have changed. The cloistered professor, who never replied to the shafts of the witty, either for lacking the price of admission or because he was too busy thinking, will come as near to saving the country as anyone. And he is definitely not joke material any more. If it weren't so grim, the laugh would be on the wags themselves.

As the nation struggles to keep a foothold on the earth, the government finds itself putting out $760 million a year for scientific research and it is not calling in the drawing room wits. Rather it is looking anxiously at those absent-minded professors.

Twenty years ago, says the Wall Street Journal, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology received $200,000 in one year for extracurricular research. Last year it did $67.3 million. Almost every major university in the country was participating in some degree in basic research. The University of Chicago is managing the Argonne Laboratory for the Atomic Energy Commission. California Tech operates the Jet Propulsion Laboratory for the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, and the University of California runs the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory for the AEC.

Albeit the work of these scientists is top priority for national survival their preoccupation with research is raising a serious question of who is remaining to bring on the next generation of scientists. A man can't be in the laboratory and in the class room at the same time.

The universities assert that their teachers so far have been reasonably successful doubling their work load. But as laboratory demands increase it is obvious that something is going to have to give.

Brazil Friendship The Work Of A Few

WASHINGTON — In Rio De Janeiro President Eisenhower is being entertained by the man whom he did not especially want to be appointed ambassador to Brazil.

He is John Cabot, the rather stuffy, intellectual blue-blood who is a cousin of United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and comes from Boston where, it is said, "The Lowells speak only to Cabots and the Cabots speak only to God." Cabot is just the opposite of the vivacious, scintillating Clare Boothe Luce, who with her husband contributed $36,000 to Ike's re-election fund and whose magazines —Time, Life, Fortune — have been such unfailing defenders of his administration.

But when Sen. Wayne Morse kicked over the traces at Mrs. Luce's confirmation as ambassador to Brazil, and Mrs. Luce in turn claimed that Wayne had been kicked in the head by a horse, the ambassadorship was tossed in the lap of John Cabot.

Strangely, this turned out to be something of an act of God. For not only has Cabot done a good job, but his appointment symbolized an important reversal of American policy. It was much more important than the headlines over a horse, Morse, and a lady.

For early in the Eisenhower administration, Cabot had been tossed out as assistant secretary of state when he differed emphatically with George Humphrey, then Secretary of the Treassury, over lending money to Latin America.

Humphrey had gone to Rio De Janeiro in 1954 as chief delegate to the Pan American Economic Conference, and promptly stunned Latin Americans by announcing a very tight-fisted lending policy. Assistant Secretary Cabot, also a Republican disagreed. So did another Republican, Congressman Jim Fulton of Pennsylvania. And when Fulton stated his disagreement publicly, he was bounced out of a reception at the American embassy.

Later Humphrey changed his mind about tight-fisted credit for Latin America, but in the interim, the Latins had started to organize their own bank, and the Soviets had started to take advantage of Washington's parsimony by lending Argentina $100,000,000.

So when John Cabot was finally named ambassador to Brazil he became a symbol of more generous credit. Six years ago he had been bounced as assistant secretary of state. Now he is back in high esteem, entertaining the man who bounced him.

When Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was in Brazil recently as chairman of the Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Latin America he was frequently introduced as the man who defeated Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce.

Ike's Words Fail To Be Convincing

WASHINGTON — In his telecast prior to departing for Latin America, President Eisenhower thought better of making the defense debate a personal issue between him and his critics.

This will remove some of the sting from the defense dispute, which would have gone on in any case. For the climate of Washington is changing rather more rapidly than many people realize as the transfer of power to new hands draws ever closer.

The President has stifled many disputes by sheer weight of his personal prestige or by transmuting the argument into a question of his own good faith. He has lately been doing this with the defense matter, and this time it failed to work. The critics have kept on talking and the country seems to be listening.

For reasons not officially disclosed, the President decided not to take the prestige pitcher to the well once more before flying south. Possibly he decided only that it was better for the purpose of his goodwill tour to leave Congress with a smile. The discussion will be here when he gets back, and he may then be fortified in public esteem by an extremely successful tour.

The President was not, of course, being accused of purposefully misleading the American people. The fact is that he and his critics are using the same set of somber facts as developed in the testimony of witnesses who have been under the direction of the President for seven years. The military planners of the services, apart from his appointees to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, have shown remarkable boldness and unanimity in so testifying.

The President finds himself able to draw more optimistic conclusions than his critics, not all of whom are Democrats. It is not surprising that he should, since he must take responsibility for what has not been done or achieved and will be called to account for it in the campaign just starting.

It is equally unsurprising that the Democrats, having found a good issue, should start riding it. They are running for office against the Eisenhower administration and they are also acting in character, for they have historically been ready to expend more for defense than the President's party.

They are doubtless emboldened by the circumstance that the next election will not and cannot be a test of Eisenhower's popularity. They now sense also a change of temper at the grass roots — or say that they do.

The candidates for president and their pals will be accused of playing politics from here on in, no matter what they do. But this does not apply to the many veteran legislators, many of them from the South, who are joining the defense issue against the President.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Nuclear Sharing Still Denied

WASHINGTON — Nothing more extraordinary for confusion, uncertainty and a heavy air of mystery has occurred in this administration than the mixup over sharing nuclear weapons with America's NATO allies. It was a fine example of marching up the hill, under a cloak of strictest secrecy, and then retreating in embarrassed disorder.

If President Eisenhower was aware of this sudden foray into a new area of policy and its objectives, he showed no sign of it. In fact, to the discomfiture of high officials in the Pentagon who had initiated it, whether knowingly or unknowingly, he signalled the retreat.

A top secret paper was submitted to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy with the sanction of high officials in the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission. It proposed that the United States share the custody of nuclear weapons with the British. This was in relation to the intermediate-range ballistic missile bases and also for an airborne alert.

The contention was that only in this way could the greatest speed and efficiency be achieved in the event of the need for a retaliatory strike. Under the law as currently interpreted, a United States agent must keep custody of nuclear weapons at overseas bases.

Committee members were startled at the proposal itself, since its implications were so far reaching. But what was more startling was the view that the President had the authority to do this under his "inherent powers" despite the law.

The whole question of the sharing of nuclear weapons and nuclear information was thoroughly threshed out when the basic Atomic Energy Law was amended in 1958. At the request of the administration, closer cooperation with America's allies was approved. But on the insistence of committee members fearful that the "nuclear club" would be expanded, the provision that weapons must be retained in American custody was kept in the law.

Questioning of administration witnesses following the unveiling of the secret proposal seemed to confirm one of the deepest doubts of committee members. If nuclear weapons could be put in the hands of the British, they would hardly be withheld from other allies.

Having furnished Britain with a squadron of Thor intermediate-range missiles, manned by the Royal Air Force, this country is in process of installing similar missile squadrons in Turkey and Italy.

The deepest misgivings were, however, with respect to West Germany. Several committee members feel that to give custody of nuclear weapons to the Germans would be an irrevocable act with such wide repercussions as to doom attempts at disarmament. These same members are concerned over the way in which custody of nuclear weapons in Germany has been so interpreted as to violate the spirit, if not the letter, of the law.

Shortly after a hint of what had been proposed to the joint committee appeared, President Eisenhower was asked about sharing atomic weapons with allies. To the chagrin of those who had carefully thought out and worked up the "inherent powers" theory, the President replied:

"As far as giving away bombs, this cannot be done under existing law."

Since then it has been made clear that the administration will not ask for a change in the law, realizing it would precipitate a long controversy. But Joint Committee members are not sure that this really ends the effort to give weapons to the British.

The law requires that custody of atomic weapons be vested in a civilian, and a representative of the Atomic Energy Commission is designated by the President. But since the President also has the power to turn weapons over to the Defense Department, it has been determined that the captain of an American ship or submarine can be the AEC representative by White House order. He thus has the dual role of commander of and presidential guardian under law.

Why, it is being asked, could not a Royal Air Force lieutenant be given the same designation? This would make it possible to keep British fighter bombers in the air on a ready alert as a supplement to the ballistic-missile deterrent.

If that should be done under the "inherent powers" of the presidency, it would be with the tightest secrecy restrictions. The Joint Committee would not be informed and presumably America's other allies would have no knowledge of this step. They would not be in a position, therefore, to claim the same privilege.

Interstate Questions

McCook, Neb.

I recently read your editorial on the federal highway program. There are two things that puzzle me and also many people to whom I have talked about it: (1) Why a super highway through Omaha? (2) Why must the super highway run parallel to Highway 30; why not use the present tract rather than two highways? Seems rather expensive at the present and considering maintenance in the future.

CONFUSED TAXPAYER

Editor's Note: The first question is a very involved one, but there are several quick answers. For one thing, the route through Omaha will permit the earliest connection with the Interstate through Iowa. Secondly, the federal law on the Interstate provides for equal service to urban needs. Thirdly, the time to debate the Omaha route was about a year ago, as stopping it now would greatly disrupt the program and result in the loss of up to possible millions of dollars in state aid. Fourth, the question seems to be more for federal government than state consideration.

On the second question, the State Highway Department explains that the construction of Highway 30 is too far below standards to use as an Interstate route. Interstate access control could not be achieved with Highway 30 and to use the existing highway would run the Interstate through many small towns, almost wiping some of them out with controlled access.

The Mavericks

Lincoln, Neb.

In my short life I have witnessed the rise and fall of many a political maverick. They are to be encouraged, for they usually stir up the political waters and frequently they have wrought much good. They are, on occasion, guilty of exercising octopus-like tendencies and accordingly gathering unto themselves every possible splinter of public restlessness for their platforms.

Each in his own way is an eschewer of evil and a doer of good. At times I wonder if some of them are not persuaded by the unction of their own words that they are all-bountiful, all-wise, and all-powerful.

As long as we have these political mavericks and their kind around, I don't much worry about Khrushchev. What our country needs more of is for more and more of its people to speak their minds and to stand up and be counted. Complacency has, I fear, become almost a cardinal sin of the American people. We need, in my opinion, more mavericks in every phase of our American life and living.

Chessman Case

Lincoln, Neb.

After Caryl Chessman had exhausted every remedy in the state and federal courts and there remained only the hope of reprieve, Gov. Brown of California granted him a 60-day stay of execution and later told a news conference, "I'm still convinced he is guilty." By this statement he admitted to a violation of his oath of office. In reprieving a condemned criminal while convinced of his guilt, he knowingly failed to uphold the law of his state, and his personal disapproval of that law is no excuse.

He then called a special session of the legislature for the purpose of abolishing capital punishment, with reference to which he then made this statement: "If the people, acting through their elected representatives, determine that the present law shall be continued in effect, Caryl Chessman will be executed under the law." This statement implies the alternative that Caryl Chessman will not be executed "if" the present law (capital punishment) is repealed. Does the governor expect that a new law, enacted at this late date, will become retroactive as to Chessman, thus enabling him to escape the penalty which he invited, and which was in effect when he committed the crime?

The rumors from South America on the eve of the President's Latin American tour, exaggerated by the telegram Gov. Brown received from an over-apprehensive State Department assistant, gave the governor the excuse he needed to partially justify the reprieve; his personal feelings toward capital punishment turned the scale.

Is our concern for friendly international relations so great as to compel the governor of one of our greatest states to suspend law-enforcement because of protests (of possible communist origin) from Uruguay and Brazil? Or is the 60-day reprieve intended as a stop-gap, giving Ike time to complete his tour and return home in safety before the stay expires? A poll of the California Senate indicates that the death penalty will not be abolished. In which case, in the words of Gov. Pat Brown, "Caryl Chessman will be executed under the law."

Helping Hands

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to thank all the people who were so helpful when I had an accident last Friday—the kind person who put my glasses in the car, and especially the thoughtful gentleman who drove out to ask my neighbor to care for my children. I'm most appreciative of what they did, and wish I could thank them personally.

County Adopts Road Program

...ADD PAVING FOR NORTH 33RD

By Del Harding

County Engineer Louis Weaver's proposed 1960 county road program was adopted as expected Tuesday by the County Board following a public hearing.

But the board added to the program at the request of the City Council a paving project on No. 33rd St. The Board agreed to pave a 500-foot stretch of 33rd St. from Adams St. south to where city paving begins.

The project will cost about $10,000.

At Board Chairman Rollin Bailey's request the board also adopted a policy statement which said the board will continue working toward widening of Cornhusker Highway to 4 lanes.

Bailey has proposed the widening and the commissioners have discussed the matter with State Highway Dept. officials but as yet no concrete plans for the project have been made.

Over $1 Million

Weaver's road program, which was announced earlier this month, calls for spending over $1 million and includes 6½ miles of new asphaltic concrete paving. Paving projects are located near Hickman, Denton and on Lincoln's No. 14th St.

Seven wooden bridges also will be replaced with steel and concrete structures.

The board also agreed to make plans to pave an 800-foot segment of 70th St. near O as requested by the City Council but Weaver said the project would call for detailed planning and actual construction could not take place this year.

Roads Poor

Atty. Winfield Elmen complained to the board about the condition of gravel roads in the Firth area and asked that they receive attention. Weaver replied that the excessive amount of moisture which the county has received this winter has caused many roads to deteriorate but said they will be worked on as soon as weather permits.

Weaver said this has been the "toughest year" on roads in his experience.

Residents of the Davey and Hickman areas appeared and complimented Weaver. Ray Judah of Hickman said persons who complain about the condition of the Lancaster County roads should journey into adjoining counties and they would then realize what a fine job Weaver is doing.

Planning Eyed

Atty. Chauncey Barney appeared as a representative of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce's streets and highways committee and said the committee will take an active interest in highway planning in future years.

Barney said he believed Weaver, who reportedly is considering retiring at the end of his present term in 1962, should map out a road program for the county to follow in coming years.

Weaver later replied that the county has such a plan but that it is difficult to make it too detailed because of uncertainty of the amount of funds which will be available in future years.

2 Imperial Youths Get Pen Terms

Stapleton (AP) — Two Imperial teen-agers, arrested after Sheriff Art Wiley was shot during an attempt to arrest two burglary suspects here, were sentenced Tuesday to the Nebraska Penitentiary.

Sheriff Wiley since has recovered.

District Judge E. G. Reed of Kearney sentenced 14-year-old Norman Lee Draper to not less than two years nor more than 4 years.

Judge Reed sentenced 15-year-old Larry D. Sherwood to 4 years in the Penitentiary.

Sherwood was wounded in the exchange with Sheriff Wiley, but also has recovered. Draper was cut by broken glass and was hospitalized for a time.

Judge Reed said if recommendation is made by officials, including the Board of Control, the two could serve their time in the State Reformatory.

After their arrest, Sheriff Wiley said Draper had admitted 10 breakins and three auto thefts, and Sherwood 9 breakins and 3 auto thefts.

Anti-Red Meeting Is Planned In Havana

Havana (AP) — Plans for an anti-Communist demonstration Wednesday night in Havana's Central Park were announced by Manzolo Maza, head of a splinter group of the old Autentica Party.

He said 20 caravans would converge on the downtown park carrying placards reading "No Communism." The Autentico Party was the largest in Cuba until Fulgencio Batista seized power in 1952.

Appraisal Firm Representatives Meet With Board

A Chicago professional appraisal firm met Tuesday with the County Board and discussed the proposed reappraisal of real estate in downtown Lincoln.

Two representatives of J. L. Jacobs & Co. met with the board and said they would prepare a preliminary study of such a reappraisal and submit it to the board at no cost to the county.

Several other firms are expected to ask to be considered for the reappraisal job, which Board Chairman Rollin Bailey has proposed. Bailey has said real estate values have changed since a county-wide appraisal was made in 1952 and some downtown properties probably are over-valued for tax purposes.

State Breeders Tour Assn. Herdsire Farm

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Fremont — The Nebraska Artificial Breeders Assn. held open house Tuesday during their annual meeting at the herdsire farm where 41 registered dairy and beef bulls were inspected by an estimated 210 dairymen and farmers who have used semen from Assn. sires to improve their herds.

Through the use of proven sires average milk production has been going up each year without increase in cost to the dairyman, according to C. W. Nibler, extension dairyman, University of Nebraska.

The available use of the high quality sires in the association herdsire battery was described by Nibler as, "The best sires in the country are now as close to you as your telephone to call your local technician."

Special awards presented by the Assn. to: Fred Bergin, technician for the Seward Co. Breeders Assn., as a member of the 20,000 Cow Club, Norman Naber, technician for the York Assn. and Tom McCright, technician for the Wayne Co. Assn. both of whom qualified for the 10,000 Cow Club. These awards are based on number of inseminations made by technicians.

Recognition awards to County Agents for their cooperation with the Association were presented to Clyde D. Clausen of Grand Island and Russell D. Hughes of Fremont.

Dr. Glenn Salisbury, Dairy Department, University of Illinois in his address to Assn. members told them that we have seen many changes in the dairy industry and that today's dairyman have a challenging business in supplying dairy products to our increasing population.

Terry Makes Official Filing

There were no surprises contained in the filings received Tuesday in the Secretary of State's office since all candidates getting their names on the official register had previously announced their intentions.

Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff completed his filing as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Rep. Lawrence Brock filed as a candidate for re-election as Nebraska's Third District congressman. The Wakefield Democrat is now serving his first term.

State Sen. John G. Donner of Elgin filed for the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor.

Council To Check Park-O-Tel For 'Blaze Hazards'

The City Council agreed to inspect the Park-O-Tel hotel at 230 No. 11th next Monday regarding reported fire, electrical, structural and sanitation deficiencies and hazards in the 3-story building.

Inspection reports and recommendations of the fire, building inspection, and health departments were handed Tuesday to the council.

Relics Threatened

Rome (AP) — Dikes will be built to protect the ancient Egyptian tourist attractions of Abou Simbel and the Island of Philae from lake waters of the Aswan high dam, says Vottorino Veronese, UNESCO's director general. Some other threatened relics will be dismantled and rebuilt elsewhere in Egypt.

AF Aides' Manual Cost $11 A Copy

Washington (UPI)—The Air Force manual that told enlisted men how to wash an officer's dog, among other things, cost the taxpayers $5,572.71, it was disclosed.

A master sergeant and 3 civilians spent a total of 230 days preparing the "on-the-job training" pamphlet. Since just 500 copies were turned out and distributed to enlisted men assigned as generals' aides, the cost was about $11 a copy.

The statistics were revealed by a House appropriations subcommittee, which called for an Air Force explanation of the manual.

Tax Relief Seen In Salt-Wahoo District

...OFFICIALS NOTE ADVANTAGES

By Don Walton

Formation of the proposed Salt-Wahoo Watershed District will bring "tax relief for all taxpayers," Salt-Wahoo officials said tuesday.

"Right now, the taxpayers are required to pay more than a one mill levy would raise for flood damages to public works of all kinds," a joint statement from State Sen. Otto Liebers and Robert Crosby of Lincoln pointed out.

Liebers is chairman of Salt-Wahoo; Crosby is its secretary and counsel.)

"County Engineer Louis W. Weaver estimates that flood damage to Lancaster County roads and bridges alone during the last 18 years has averaged $75,000 per year.

Federal Aid

Further, it was noted, the federal government will contribute more than $15 million toward the solution of the area's flood problems, "which will result in direct relief in local taxes."

In addition, Salt-Wahoo—with its authority to levy no more than three-fourths of a mill—would replace the Sanitary District, with its one mill tax, thereby bringing "almost immediate tax reductions," Liebers and Crosby said.

Then, "after the construction period, the taxpayers will undoubtedly enjoy an additional tax reduction ranging from one-half mill upward," the statement continued.

"The federal government will maintain the large dams, and less than one-fourth mill should meet the needs of the watershed district."

Halt Flooding

On top of all that, Salt-Wahoo would bring a savings of "millions of dollars of damage to private property resulting from floods," Liebers and Crosby pointed ut.

Regarding the proposed dissolution of the Sanitary District, it was noted that "if corrective legislation covering some details is needed in order to complete the transfer of functions to the watershed district, we know from experience that this can be handled easily at the next Legislature."

Further, it was noted, both storm and sanitary sewers in Lincoln are the responsibility of city government and not the Sanitary District.

Owners Pay

The cost of sanitary sewer work outside of Lincoln, which is handled by the Sanitary District, is "assessed entirely against the property being served," the statement said.

The Salt-Wahoo program, Liebers and Crosby said, reflects the co-ordinated thinking of the Soil Conservation Service and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The statement came in reply to recent criticism from State Grange Master George Spidel and the Lancaster County Farm Bureau.

David Tews Won't Enter Judge Race

Norfolk—State Sen. David Tews has announced he will not be a candidate for district judge in the 15th Judicial District as previously planned, nor will he seek reelection to the Legislature.

Tews had paid his filing fee as a candidate for the District Court bench, but had not yet completed his filing with the Secretary of State's office.

The young attorney is studying for a master's degree at the University of Nebraska and practicing law in Norfolk on weekends.

He said he plans to attend the University for two more years, and that his studies would interfere with his serving either on the bench or in the Legislature.

U.S. Joins 31 Countries In 'Florence Agreement'

Washington (AP)—The Senate has ratified by a 76-14 vote an international agreement aimed at reducing tariff and trade obstacles to exchange of educational, scientific and cultural materials.

The action makes the United States a party to an agreement adopted by the general conference of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) at Florence, Italy in 1950.

The "Florence agreement," to which 31 nations already have adhered, covers imports of books and publications, visual and auditory materials, scientific instruments and various publications or articles for the blind.

Woodmen Hit Insurance Sales Record

Woodmen Accident and Life Co. of Lincoln reported a record total of $52,601,000 in new life insurance written and revived during 1959, bringing total life insurance in force to more than $214,400,000.

E. J. Faulkner, president, informed policyholders at the annual meeting Tuesday that gains were made in business in force, benefits paid, premium income, admitted assets and surplus.

Accident and health insurance premiums written in 1959 achieved a new high of $9,697,000, and admitted assets of the company increased to $31,655,441.

In 1959, the company paid $5,822,115 to policyholders and their beneficiaries, bringing benefits disbursed since the company's founding in 1890 to more than $61,000,000.

Faulkner forecast substantial gains for the firm in the coming year. The company plans expansion of its agency force in the 28 states in which it operates.

Company promotions announced are:

C. W. Faulkner, vice president and superintendent of agencies; H. A. Wiebers, second vice president and assistant treasurer; G. E. Thompson, second vice president-administration; G. S. Davey, second vice president-life insurance underwriting; J. J. McCuistion, second vice president-health insurance underwriting; Wayland Mansfield, second vice president-group insurance; R. W. Mann, assistant to president and assistant secretary; Glenn Chase, director of administrative services and Edward Beadle, staff accountant.

Officers re-elected are: E. J. Faulkner, president; R. L. Spangler, executive vice president and secretary; W. S. Henrion, vice president and treasurer; R. W. Faulkner, vice president; L. J. Melby, vice president and director of agencies; O. C. Wood, vice president and director of claims; J. C. Angle, vice president and actuary; W. I. Aitken, general counsel; Dr. M. P. Brolsma, medical director; Trev Gillaspie, assistant to president; Max Young, assistant secretary; D. K. Walcott, director of sales services; W. P. Thornton, director of education; G. B. Klein, director of accounting services; Helen A. Atkinson, director, home security division; A. D. Anderson, director of group sales, and D. T. Kirby, agency secretary.

Tragic Rooming House Blaze Killing 7 Started On 2nd Floor, Say Inspectors

Omaha (AP) — Fire trapped and killed 7 men Tuesday as it raced through a downtown rooming house occupied mostly by pensioners.

Firefighters kept the flames from spreading next door where 162 men slept—114 of them on the floor — in the Open Door Mission for jobless and alcoholics.

Five bodies were found in 3rd-floor rooms of the St. James Hotel. Two others were in the hall of the 70-year-old, 3-story brick building.

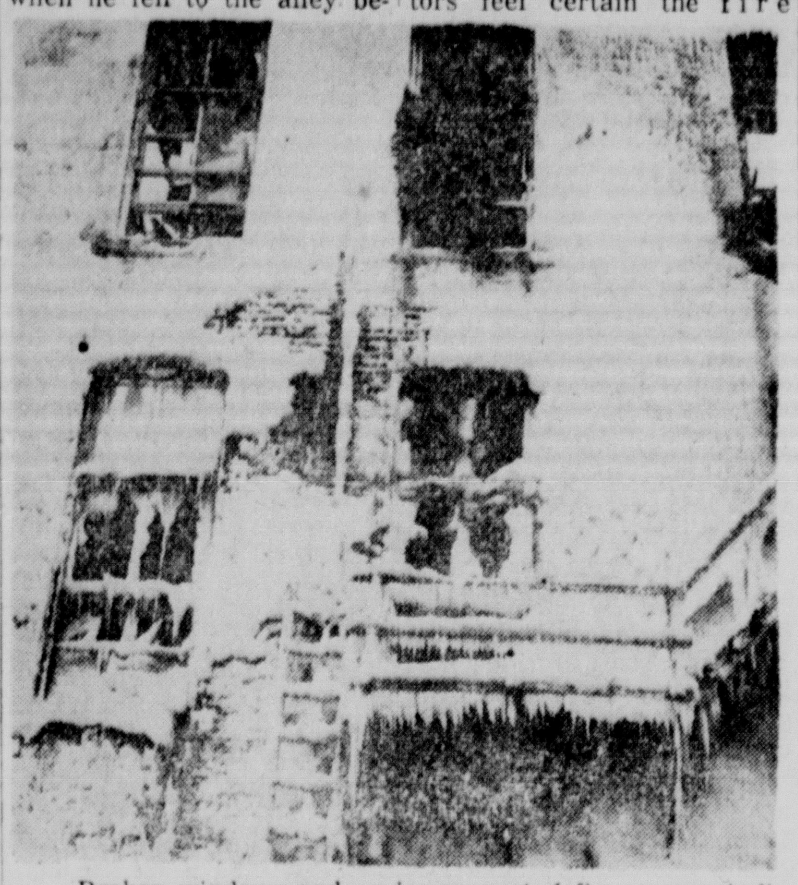
"It had an awful start on us," assistant Fire Inspector Walter Downey reported.

The blaze was not evident when one resident picked up his key at 1:10 a.m. Yet less than 20 minutes later a 2nd floor resident, James Tucker, 39, turned in the alarm at a box. He couldn't use the phone because the wires had been burned.

Four residents of the rooming house were hospitalized. The most seriously injured, Charles Battles, 58, recalled: "I was asleep and I heard some one hollering. I went to the door and it looked like all hell had busted out. The hall was all fire. I couldn't get out

"I ran to the window, hung myself over the sill and dropped."

Battles was a ball of fire when he fell to the alley below. He landed on some suitcases



Broken windows and an ice-encrusted fire escape indicate the damage to the Omaha hotel where 7 died Tuesday in an early morning tragedy. (AP Wirephoto Special to The Star)

Fire Chief Eugene Fields said Tuesday night his inspectors feel certain the fire started in the 2nd floor bathroom.

He commented "the only thing we can figure out is that the landlady (Mrs. Clara Gillen, 64) gave some man a key around midnight to go in there (the bathroom) and he is one of the men who are dead. So we'll never know what happened."

Fields said the man might have been smoking a cigaret which set fire to some combustible material.

Meanwhile, chief building inspector Leo J. Ohlinger said that if an inspection of the basement Wednesday reveals joists are weak he will seek to condemn the entire building. The 2nd and 3rd floors are definitely unsafe. The hotel occupied these floors.

There were 35 people in the building at the time. Though it is called a hotel, it did not house transients.

There was no estimate of the damage.

One hundred twenty firemen and 18 trucks saw duty at the scene. The temperature fell to 7 degrees above zero. Water froze as it splashed against building and hoses clogged with ice.

The 3rd alarm was sounded at 1:41. At about 5:30 the blaze was under control.

4th Multi-Alarm

Omaha — Tuesday's rooming house blaze snuffing out 7 lives here was the 4th multi-alarm blaze in Omaha since Jan. 31. The others:

Jan. 31—Chicago Apartment-Hotel; 34 evacuated; 3 firemen overcome by smoke.

Feb. 1—Apartment house at 2301 No. 16th Street; confined to lower part of building with extensive smoke and water damage.

Feb. 2—Herzberg's Department Store; one woman seriously injured.

All 7 bodies were recovered.

Among those evacuated from the burning structure was the landlady Mrs. Gillen, who suffers from multiple sclerosis. She said she could not recall how she got downstairs after the alarm was sounded. Her son, James, said someone must have helped her and her 84-year-old mothed, Mrs. Mary Brady, to the street.

Fire Investigator Walter Downey said the fire seemed to have had "an awful start" when firemen were summoned.

The rooming house was located at 416 South 13th Street in the area between downtown retail and wholesale business districts.

The injured, besides Battles, were Pete Peterson, 60, Nels Nelson, 76, and William Gordon, 84. All were reported in at least fair condition.

Tuesday's fire took the heaviest toll in lives since March 23, 1948, when Ward's Rest Home burned. Five died in this fire and 3 died on subsequent days, bringing the toll to 8 deaths.

Prior to that the worst fire in Omaha occurred on Feb. 8, 1933, when 7 firemen were killed fighting a blaze at the Millard Hotel at 13th and Douglas Streets, less than 4 blocks from the scene of Tuesday's tragedy.

Girl, 5, Dies From Burns

Omaha (AP)—Thelma Jean Barnes, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barnes, Omaha, died in a hospital Tuesday of burns suffered when she played with a cigaret lighter two months ago.

Thelma Jean was burned Dec. 24.

Other survivors are two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Church of the Living God.

Moisture Supply Is 'Favorable'

. . . For Season's Start

Government crop observers Tuesday described Nebraska's soil moisture situation as "favorable for the start of the 1960 season."

Much of the state lies under a blanket of snow measuring from a trace in western sections to more than a foot in parts of the northeast, according to the weekly crop and weather review of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Moisture from melting snow last week added to the soil moisture supply as run-off generally was light, the division said.

The outlook for winter grain crops has improved. Soil blowing and wind erosion have been checked by snow cover and moist surface soil, the report noted.

The condition of winter barley is spotted as some fields failed to survive earlier low temperatures and exposure. Some rye acreage also has been lost.

Although winter wheat prospects have brightened as the result of above-normal precipitation, the crop was behind its usual development going into dormancy, notably in central and eastern sections where seeding was late last fall.

Other crop report observations:

Hay supplies are dwindling rapidly in many sections. Heavy feeding has resulted from restrictions on field foraging. Local shortages of hay are beginning to develop and shipments from surplus producing areas are increasing.

Livestock have had trouble holding condition in the cold, disagreeable weather.

NPPD Asking For New Trial

Beatrice (UPI)—Norris Public Power District Tuesday filed a motion for a new trial in its long power contract struggle with the city of Beatrice.

Norris was denied Feb. 13 by 3 district judges here in an application for an injunction against Beatrice on the power contract. The 3 judges also upheld an earlier Supreme Court mandate declaring Norris' contract with the city null and void.

Beatrice now has less than two months to negotiate for a new power contract.

Snow is forecast Wednesday for the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and northern New York while rain mixed with snow is seen for central and southern Appalachians. Rain is predicted for South Atlantic states, except Florida. Some snow is also forecast in Rocky Mountains. It will be colder in the Ohio Valley, middle Mississippi Valley south to Gulf Coast. A warming trend is due for Florida. Continued cold is expected for the Rocky Mountains, Plains states, mid-Atlantic Coast and Maine. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Supt. Burgeson's Rites Wednesday

Lexington (AP)—Funeral services for John Burgeson, 52, superintendent of the Lexington High Shool, will be at the Methodist Church in Lexington at 3 p.m. Wednesday. He died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home.

In his 4th year in the Lexington school post, Mr. Burgeson had been superintendent at Gordon for 12 years before coming here. Prior to going to Gordon he was principal of high schools at Stockham and David City.

He was a past president of the Nebraska State Education Assn., and a member of the Nebraska Schoolmasters' Club. A University of Nebraska graduate, he was a native of Holdrege.

Baker Urges 'Legislation With Teeth'

Omaha (AP) — A Washington Farmers Union official called Tuesday for "legislation with teeth in it" providing for expanded industrial uses of farm products.

John Baker of Washington, co-ordinator of legislative services of the National Farmers Union, said he thinks Congress will come up with a bill at this session.

It is the hope of the NFU, he said, that Congress will follow many of the recommendations of the President's commission on increased use of agricultural products, which was headed by J. LeRoy Welsh of Omaha.

Baker, a speaker at the Nebraska Farmers Union convention, charged that the Farm Bureau Federation is "willing to accept the window dressing bill passed by the House." He said the Senate measure was a "fairly good bill" but the House "took out the best parts."

Brock Introduces Opponent To Congressional Delegation

Washington (AP) — There was a political twist to the Nebraska congressional delegation breakfast meeting Tuesday.

Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb) introduced Loran Schmit,

Nebraska News

David City, Neb., who has filed for the Republican nomination for Brock's House seat. Brock is a candidate for re-election.

Congressmen customarily introduce guests from their districts at the weekly breakfast meetings.

Schmit said:

"The last time I was here this was a partisan affair but Mr. Brock and McGinley have changed that."

Brock defeated Rep. R. D. Harrison (R) and Rep. Donald F. McGinley (D-Neb) ousted Rep. A. L. Miller (R) in the 1958 election.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tye, Kearney, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knight, Alliance, Neb.; Howard Kennedy, Broken Bow, Neb.; Paul Kirk, Lincoln, Neb.; and J. E. Ludden, Kearney, Neb.

Maid Almost Met Mrs. Finch's Fate, Prosecution Contends

Los Angeles (AP) — After slaying his wife, the state said Tuesday, Dr. Bernard Finch went hunting for her maid and if he'd found her, "she wouldn't have testified from this witness stand."

In final arguments at the physician's murder trial, prosecutor Clifford Crail said the doctor greeted Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch on the night she died with a skull-cracking blow from ambush and shot her in the back as she fled the scene — the Finch garage.

Then Dr. Finch returned to the garage, Crail told the jury, hunting Marie Anne Lidholm, the couple's 19-year-old Swedish maid. But Marie had run into the house to phone police.

New Allegation

This was the first time the prosecution alleged that the doctor planned to harm the maid. It introduced no evidence or testimony along that line.

Dr. Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, are on trial charged with murdering Mrs. Finch the night of last July 18. The state says they hoped to make her death look accidental.

"You've got to decide," Crail told the jury, "whether you're going to believe this man and this woman (he pointed at the defendants) or Marie Anne Lidholm. And I don't believe your decision in that regard is going to be too difficult."

Carole Unstable

At one point as Crail addressed the jury Miss Tregoff paled and seemed faint. Her attorney obtained a short recess so she could compose herself.

Crail said Mrs. Finch was struck as she was getting out of her car.

Her skull was fractured by a blow on the left side.

Crail said she was stunned and unable to scream at once.

"As soon as she was capable of making a sound," he said, "she screamed as Marie Anne had never heard her scream before."

The maid, testified that after hearing a scream she ran to the garage. She said the doctor slammed her into a wall, then tried to force her into the car, and fled in pursuit when Mrs. Finch ran into the night.

The doctor in his testimony admitted striking Mrs. Finch with the gun, saying he wrested it from her. He did it, he said, because he feared Miss Lidholm was coming to her aid with another weapon.

Pigeons Topple To Unsolved Deaths

New York (AP) — Pigeons roosting on a ledge of a 6-story building in the financial district mysteriously fell to their deaths on the street below. About 60 birds fell during a two-hour period.

They landed on the top of cars or struck the pavement. No pedestrians were hit.

An examination of some of the pigeons indicated death was caused by poisoning. Further tests were ordered. Similar mass deaths of pigeons last summer was attributed to poisoning caused by eating grass fertilizer spread in Battery Park.

Unity Urged Among State Watersheds

Representatives of the Nebraska Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and of the various watershed groups throughout the state met in Lincoln Tuesday for the purpose of forming a "closer working alliance between the groups."

Representatives of the watershed groups will be invited to attend the annual meeting of the Soil and Water Conservation Districts next October, according to Dempsey McNeil of Holdrege, president.

At the present time there are 14 watershed districts in the state, and an additional 36 have applied for federal government assistance in watedshed development.

Omahans Polling Vote Preference

Questionnaires were reported in circulation over Nebraska Tuesday in an effort to learn voter preferences for governor and voter sentiment on a sales tax and other issues.

The poll is being conducted by the Merrill J. Hewitt advertising agency of Omaha under the name of the Nebraska Research Bureau. A Hewitt firm spokesman said the poll is aimed at "a limited sample" of voters in both parties.

The questionnaire lists Del Lienemann, John Cooper, Victor Anderson, Terry Carpenter and Dwain Williams as potential GOP candidates for Governor. All but Anderson have filed.

Frank Morrison, Gov. Ralph Brooks and Robert Conrad are listed as potential Democratic candidates. Only Morrison has filed of these 3.

Employment at Miller and Paine reached an all-time high during 1959, it was announced at the department store's annual directors meeting.

They are R. E. Campbell, chairman of the board; John M. Campbell, president; Philip Watkins, vice president; Samuel E. Haupt, vice president and secretary; Harold H. Hinds, treasurer; Mrs. Donald W. Miller, director, and Joseph L. Owens, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Morrison Opposes Sales, Income Tax

Omaha (AP) — Frank Morrison of Lincoln, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said in an address in Omaha he opposes a state sales or income tax.

DRUG PRICES KEPT DOWN, SAYS OFFICIAL; HEARING DELAY PROMPTS KEFAUVER THREAT

Washington (UPI) — Senators investigating drug prices forced each other to swallow bitter pills Tuesday—a Republican-imposed delay in hearings and a Democratic threat to hold night sessions to make up for lost time.

GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) who has accused his fellow investigators of "trickery" in charging drug firms with price-padding, brought about the delay.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the Senate subcommittee which is investigating the drug industry, said night sessions would be held if necessary.

Price Rise Less

Dr. Austin Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn., testified that his industry had kept drug prices low when other prices climbed much faster.

After the hearing had gone about an hour and a quarter, time came for members to attend a meeting of the parent Senate Judiciary Committee. Kefauver wanted to reconvene his hearing afterward but Dirksen objected.

Kefauver said Dirksen threatened to hold up "very important" hearings.

Smith, in his testimony, said "Americans today would be paying a billion dollars a year more for drugs if the price of medicine in the past few years had gone up only as much as the total cost of living."

Smith also asserted that American drug firms are leading the world in developing new medicines. Declaring that there has been "no missile gap" in drug research, he said "the Soviet Union has all but dropped from the race."

Nebraska's Share Of Bingo Tax May Produce $50,000

If Nebraskans continue playing bingo at their present rate, the state's share of the 10% tax should come close to reaching the $50,000 estimated for this first year's returns.

When the state's levy was being prepared last summer, State Agricultural Director Pearle F. Finigan—charged with administration and enforcement of the bingo law passed in 1959—had to guess the amount of tax which would accrue to the general fund.

The state has collected $21,899 as its share of taxes during the first 7 months of legalized bingo.

At that rate, Finigan expects the first year's receipts to run between $45,000 and $50,000.

Costs Less

On another point, Finigan said Tuesday that enforcement costs are running below funds made available for this purpose.

The Legislature appropriated $46,000 for the 1959-61 biennium for enforcement of the bingo law.

The state has two bingo inspectors, William Diers of Gresham and Vral Popa of Omaha.

It was thought originally that 3 inspectors would be hired. Finigan noted, but it was found that two men have been able to do the job.

"We've never had an official complaint of a violation," he said.

Train Discontinuance Rehearing Overruled

The Nebraska Railway Commission announced Tuesday it has unanimously overruled a motion for a rehearing and stay order on the authority it granted the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. to discontinue passenger trains Nos. 41 and 44 between Lincoln and Alliance.

Commission spokesmen said the protestors will have until March 19 to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The permission to drop the trains was granted Jan. 26 after the railroad contended it was operating them at a "substantial out-of-pocket loss," and offered to carry mail, express and milk by truck.

A hearing was held Feb. 15 on the motion to rehear the case and order a stay. It was filed by the protestors, the cities and towns of Lincoln, Alliance, Ravenna, Mullen, Hyannis, Anselmo, Ansley, Berwyn, Broken Bow, Mason City and Merna, and four railroad labor unions.

A railroad spokesman said the trains are continuing to run, and the public will be given ample notice of the actual discontinuance.

In other action, the commission granted permission to the Burlington to discontinue its agency at the station of Henry, and substitute a custodian.

John F. Novotny, doing business as Novotny Bus Lines, Valley, was granted authority to operate as a motor carrier of passengers for hire in intrastate commerce.

BRIEF FILED IN WESLEYAN GIFT CASE

A case involving an alleged gift to Nebraska Wesleyan University by the late Charity B. Couch to establish a scholarship for girls has been appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The appeal was brought by the estate of Charity B. Couch, who died Jan. 12, 1958, from a decision of the Keith County District Court favoring the school,

According to a brief filed Tuesday by the attorneys for the estate, Charity B. Couch gave the school a $5,000 note in 1927 for the purpose of establishing the "Ilus and Charity Couch Memorial Scholarships." They maintained the note was not a valid obligation and claim against the estate.

The school alleged the note was payable at or before her death, but that no payment had been made except a sum of $500 which had been refunded.

The Keith County Court disallowed the school's claim, but the district court for Keith County reversed the county court and said the school should be allowed $5,000 plus 6 per cent interest from Jan. 12, 1958. Attorneys for the estate appealed to the supreme court.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

Amid the pomp and snowy splendor of the VIIIth Winter Olympics, I keep thinking of those poor, shivering pigeons. "Pigeons on the grass, alas" — as Gertrude Stein remarked to Alice B. Toklas.

The ceremony of this splendid affair was in the hands of Walt Disney. And upon arrival (I came fresh from Costa Rica, still in tropical clothing). Upon arrival, I bought a wool shirt and asked for "Pageantry."

"How about the pigeons?"

It was snowing to beat the band. Not even commercial flights were getting into Reno airport. But I supposed Mr. Disney had given the pigeons a talk about how the show must go on. And that pigeons would take off, weather or no.

There were 2500 pigeons out at Squaw Valley. They were substituting for doves of peace. The weather being too squally for doves. A dove, I gather, is not only peaceful. He is no fool and does not fly around in zero temperatures.

☆ ☆ ☆

The lady in Pageantry said the pigeons were ready for release. But they would not fly.

"That is not the worst of it," she said.

"Tell me the worst of it."

"How about Vice President Nixon?"

"The Vice President has made it, I am happy to say. However, there are other complications."

"Like what, Pageantry lady?"

"Like the high school bands. A number of high school bands were going to march. They cannot get through the snow."

"Any other disasters?"

"I don't know whether the balloons were released. A huge number of balloons were being released this morning. But I didn't see any."

"Who would know about that?"

"The Army. You would have to ask the Army about that. They were in charge of releasing balloons."

☆ ☆ ☆

I cannot tell you how much this livened the whole day. Bad news is better than good news — if you do not believe this, take another look at the front page.

However, I am a cautious journalist. I checked again at 12:30.

"Are those pigeons still grounded?"

The Pageant lady assured me the pigeons were not even going through their take-off check lists. "Even Walt Disney is not being released," she said.

At 1 o'clock I phoned again. The blizzard was worse. The lady said they were going to truck the pigeons home.

So I sent in a story: "The worst disaster ever to strike a pigeon . . ."

I gave it to Western Union.

And at 1:30, the blizzard stopped. The sun came out. Walt Disney appeared. The high school bands arrived and blew a marching tune.

The balloons went up.

And those pigeons, those double-crossing pigeons, flew into the California sky. That is, 2499 pigeons did. One of them flew into the electric timing clock and knocked himself silly. And served him blooming well right.

Rabies Total 7; No Polio Cases

No cases have been recorded so far this year. A year ago there was one.

A rabid skunk found in Burt County raised the animal rabies count to seven cases this year compared to none at this time last year, the department said.

General Relief Lien Over Old Age Liens

The attorney general ruled that a general relief lien was superior to old age assistance liens which were on record prior to the effective date of the act creating the general relief lien.

The opinion was written for Buffalo County Atty. Robert A. Munro of Kearney.

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The wife and I got into a big battle and we want you to settle it. She said she wasn't feeling well and I asked her how much life insurance she had. She got mad because she'd rather had had me go all to pieces, but I am not the type that goes all to pieces.

She carried $1500 on her life. I told her this was not enough for we have four children to educate. (The wife works.)

INSURED

DEAR INSURED: That's a good question for you and your wife to take up with your insurance agent. Women whose families depend on them for an income should be insured as well as men. But don't you think you picked a pretty poor time to bring it up.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am crazy, but I'm the only one with enough nerve to write to you.

Our family has been having a fight about this and I hope you'll settle it. What is my mother's first cousin to me?

DON'T KNOW

DEAR DON'T: Your mother's first cousin is YOUR second cousin, sometimes called first cousin once removed.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Oh, what a past I've had! My background would make the leading lady in a cheap novel look tame. I am now a respectable married woman and I mingle with the best families in the community. I was just thinking how little we know of our neighbors' pasts when they are transplanted from elsewhere. My problem is that very soon my son will be eligible for service. He will see his birth certificate which I have kept carefully hidden from him all these years. How shall I tell him who he really is, and the kind of life I've led? I'm afraid the shock will kill him.

A READER

DEAR READER: The shock will be less apt to "kill him" if you were to reveal only that which concerns him. The details of your past need never enter the picture. Let him preserve as many of the illusions concerning you as is possible.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me how much an 1817 penny is worth?

G. C.

DEAR G. C.: $1.50.

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything I can do about the way my daughter-in-law keeps house? She washes a cup and saucer only when they are all dirty and she needs one. I have seen her go to the kitchen sink and rinse out my son's shirt and then she spreads it out (wet) on the kitchen table over egg shells, bread crumps and dirty dishes and presses it a bit. It makes me ill to see the way they are living.

My son wasn't raised like this, Abby. He never complains and you never hear a cross word between them. Can a man forget his early training in two years of marriage? I could go on and on, but what's the use? How can I help her?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: You can help her, by teaching her—if she ASKS you. Don't volunteer. If your son is happy, close your eyes and let your mouth follow suit.

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

I really think that if I had to choose between inheriting very handsome furniture or lovely accessories, I would choose the accessories because they "make" a room.

As I walk through my rooms, if I left out the accessories there would be nothing . . . no charm, no individuality, no small extras that mean ME! Paintings, drawings, a shiny brass fender for the fireplace, mementos of my travels . . . how grim just a sofa and chairs would look without all of these companionable fill-er-ins.

It takes years to collect all this. That is often why the new bride's home is apt to look a little too precise and unlived in, and why I keep stressing the importance of accessories. They are the YOU of your house, so choose them with care. And how are YOUR accessories today?

Mrs. H. G. asks:

"I need your advice and quick. We are redecorating our house from top to bottom. We've finished our bedrooms but here we are at the bottom of the stairs, stumped! We have a dark brown tweed sofa that must stay. Other than that and our blond TV set everything will be new or done over. I would like your advice on what color to paint the walls? What color to have my two barrel TV chairs upholstered?"

Dear Mrs. H. G.:

With your dark brown tweed sofa I would like to see: Walls, maple sugar. Rug, a tangerine washable cotton area rug. Two chairs in a print or plaid in tangerine, white and black. Curtains, white. It should make a pretty room.

Mrs. C. S. asks:

"I have a buffet with a china cupboard on top which makes it look like a hutch. It is five feet high. People have told me it is incorrect to put pictures on top of something high. Is this true? Would copies of Royal Daulton figurines which I paint be correct placed on top of the cupboard? Is there anything else that would be all right on top?"

Dear Mrs. C. S.:

Five feet isn't too high for figurines and it's always nice to have things around we have done ourselves. Any kind of a collection would be quite at home up there . . . a collection of pitchers, old mugs, decorative boxes, clocks, or a low bowl of rhododendron leaves.

Mrs. N. A. S. asks:

"What could I put on a fireplace mantel to change the clock and rhododendron leaves arrangement?"

Dear Mrs. N. A. S.:

As I happen to like clocks and rhododendron leaves this sounds charming to me, but I'm all for change as I think it makes life more fun. Hurricane chimneys with white candles inside, with a bowl of those new look-like-real artificial flowers in the center (carefully chosen) would look inviting. Or use your clock and have a prim row of geraniums marching across the mantel, three on one side, four on the other, or two on one side and three on the other, depending on the size of your mantel. Try baskets, a tureen with fruit . . .get the habit of doing things that are a little different!

Opening lead — king of diamonds.

One of the first things anyone learns when he starts to play bridge is how to finesse. Peculiarly enough, one of the last things he learns is how not to finesse.

This is largely because the many different types of play that can be employed to circumvent finesses are more difficult to engineer than the finesse, which is a relatively simple operation.

One play of this type is called the "loser on loser." The accompanying hand illustrates how an even-money finesse is deliberately bypassed in favor of an endplay that leaves no room for failure.

A glance at the North-South hands reveals that declarer has no tricks to lose outside of spades. Two possible losers exist in that suit. South sees that he can make the slam if he finesses the queen and it turns out that East has the king.

But it is not the best policy to rely on a finesse, which is largely a matter of luck, without first looking for means to avoid it.

West's opening lead indicates he has the queen of diamonds. This knowledge can be put to immediate use. Declarer wins with the ace and promptly ruffs a diamond. It is the beginning of a plan to avoid the spade finesse.

After taking two rounds of tips, a club is led to the king and the eight of diamond is ruffed. Now South cashes the ace of clubs and trumps a club in dummy.

The stage has been set for the crucial play. Clubs have been eliminated from both hands. Dummy still has a trump.

The jack of diamonds is led. South does not ruff it. Instead he throws a spade loser on the jack. West wins with the queen, but has no way out. He must either return a spade to the A-Q, or lead a diamond which allows South to discard the spade queen as dummy ruffs the diamond.

Wedding

At a double ring ceremony on Sunday afternoon, Eeb. 14, the marriage of Miss Sandra Lee Gydesen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gydesen of Scotia, to Henry A. Hinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hinkle of Lincoln, took place at the Methodist Church in Scotia. Blue-tinted carnations and white gladioli formed the background for the 2:30 o'clock ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. Walter Grantham. Miss Alice Meyers of North Loup played the wedding music, and Miss Ruby Clement was the vocal soloist.

Bouffant frocks of blue lace were chosen for the attendants including Miss Joyce Peterson, the maid of honor; and bridesmaids Miss Louise Hinkle, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Karen Ita. Each wore a tiara of rhinestones, and each carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Eugene Hinkle served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Kenneth Hinkle, also a brother of the bridegroom; Duane Greenwald and Keith Gydesen.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and tulle. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a sabrina neckline, and the bouffant skirt was fashioned of tulle. A queen's crown of pearls and sequins held to the head her illusion veil.

Campfire For Peace Ceremony

Girl Scouts throughout the world took part in similar ceremonies on Feb. 22, and all the campfires were built from embers brought back from the National Girl Scout Roundup at which 26 countries were represented last summer in Colorado Springs.

SUBURBIA

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

On the calendar of events for Tuesday, Feb. 23, was a dessert supper and bunco party for which Mrs. Lee Adams was hostess at her home.

Members of the group on hand for the evening included Mrs. Vern Gruhn, Mrs. William Ray, Mrs. Marilyn Guthmiller, Mrs. Marilyn Brandt, Mrs. Delbert Adams, Mrs. Floyd Bryson, Mrs. Rolland Wart, Mrs. Dale Ward, Mrs. Richard Finningsmier, Mrs. Rex Ellison and Mrs. Everett E. Smith.

An interesting innovation that we heard of in the suburb this winter is a "do-it-yourself" nursery school, which we understand has turned out to be a smashing success.

Mothers participating in the program are Mrs. Robert Gloe, Mrs. Pat Mulligan, Mrs. Lee Adams and Mrs. Richard Huebner. Their children in the three and four year old range attend classes two mornings each week at one another's homes and take part in activities planned and supervised by the host mother.

Some of the ideal points of the plan, the mothers point out, are that such a small group of children are easily handled and soon become a close knit unit with complete compatibility and that living in such proximity to each other there's never weather or transportation problem.

INDIAN VILLAGE

Moving last Wednesday from their former home at 3009 S. 17th to their new address at 3830 C, were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson.

Earlier this month Mr. and Mrs. Thompson became the parents of a daughter, Pamela Sue, who was born at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Pam's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bilson of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Thompson of Greeley, Colo., have all visited their new granddaughter in Lincoln recently.

Another newcomer in the younger generation is Brian Vincent Amos, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Amos, Jr., who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Wednesday, Feb. 17. Included among Brian's most ardent admirers are his brother, Jimmy, and sister, Cheryl.

The young man's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Amos of Ferndale, Mich., and A. W. Ingle is the maternal grandfather. Incidentally, Mrs. Amos is presently visiting in the suburb and plans to return home this week end.

Betrothal

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of the betrothal of their daughter, Shirley Irene, to John Murray of Lincoln, son of Mrs. J. E. Murray of Falls City.

Plans are being made for a June wedding.

Food And Fashion

A new primer on fashion faces up to differences in padding and bone structure among American females. The booklet contains fashion tips for the tall, the short, the plump and the thin woman.

Capsuled, here's what the experts prescribe for women of specific body types:

If you are tall—proportion your height with a longer jacket, tunic ort hree-quarter length coat, a wide belt or a bold color contrast. In-between prints are for you, not too bold, but never tiny. Don't resign yourself to flat shoes. A moderate heel is more becoming to legs and morale.

Short—think "tall" and wear vertical lines with the emphasis high—say a broad white collar or a bright scarf. High hats and heels are good build-ups. Slim skirts, single color outfits, accessories scaled to your size, short jackets and rather short skirts are good. Best if your belt matches, and keep it narrow.

If you are plump — you'll only bulge out below and above if you squeeze in your waist. Thick tweeds and gaudy prints fatten. If your neck is short, gravitate to the new collarless coats and suits, wear earrings and an upswept hairdo, but no neck-colors, unshiny fabrics, conservative dark-ground prints are best for you. Flared skirts will flatter you more than straight ones, but keep hipline narrow and smooth. Avoid round or oval necklace. Tailored lines dark lines, puffed sleeves and sleevelessness.

If you are tall — you are a natural-born clothes horse, so make the most of it. You can wear sotf drapey fabrics or the bright satins and spongy tweeds of current fashion. You can let yourself go in the matter of vivid colors or feminine pastels.

If you are extra-long waisted with short legs — concentrate the interest of your costume above the bosom. A white collar, a draped neckline, a colored yoke, a bright scarf accomplish this. Wide belts and sashes, deep set-in waistbands all give a "rise" to the waistline and make the legs look longer.

If you are extra-short waisted with long legs—the slimmer skirt or the full skirt without petticoats looks more elegant and more balanced. Use every device to give yourself a lengthened torso: the fitted bodice that moulds past the waist to the hipbone, the low set-in belt.

Regardless of your build, the experts urge you to remember that simplicity is a key consideration when striving for the "best-dressed" look.

"The fussy costume is as out-of-date, as indigestible, as the ten course dinner," authorities said.

Cabin Boy's Testimony Closes State's Case Against Van Rie

Boston (AP)— The state closed its first degree murder case against Willem Van Rie Tuesday with testimony by an Indonesian cabin boy from half way around the world. And the defense then began its effort to save the Dutch seafarer's life.

Van Rie is being tried in the Sept. 18 death of vivacious 23-year-old Lynn Kauffman, an American passenger on the Dutch ship Utrecht. He was the ship's radio operator.

The final state witness was the short, dark-skinned 33-year-old cabin boy of the Utrecht, known only as Gadong. He traveled 12,500 miles by air to testify exactly 20 minutes.

The blue-eyed, 31-year-old Van Rie is on trial for his life in Miss Kauffman's death. The state charges he ended an illicit affair with the brunette beauty during their 44-day voyage from the Orient by beating her during a quarrel in her cabin aboard the Utrecht.

Then, the state says, Van Rie cast her unconscious over the ship's rail.

Suspense Fizzles

Gadong was billed as a mystery witness amid speculation he had seen Van Rie enter or leave Miss Kauffman's cabin about the time of her death.

Gadong's actual testimony proved a repetition of previous testimony.

Speaking rapidly through his interpreter, he testified that on Sept. 18 he went about his duties as a waiter in the ship's dining room until about 7:30 p.m. when he left bearing an orange for Miss Kauffman, who had pleaded illness in not appearing for dinner.

He got no answer when he rapped on her door, he said.

New Japanese Prince And Mother Doing Well

. . . He May Some Day Mount Ancient Throne

Tokyo (AP)—Shouts of "Banzai" echoed across the Plaza outside the imperial palace Tuesday at the birth of a 5-pound, 9-ounce prince who one day may occupy Japan's ancient throne.

Emperor Hirohito's first titled grandchild was born to Crown Princess Michiko, whose tennis court romance with Crown Prince Akihito led to marriage last April.

Michiko

The announcement of the birth at 4:15 p.m. broke tension that had built up in Japan in the 14 hours and 25 minutes after the princess went to the imperial household hospital with labor pains. The announcement said both the child and his 25-year-old mother were doing well.

After the 26-year-old Akihito, the infant is second in line of succession. Only males may ascend to the Chrysanthemum throne.

Emperor Hirohito, listed as the 124th sovereign in a dynasty said to go back 2,600 years, has 5 other grandchildren. But they are all classed as commoners because their fathers no longer are titled.

Michiko, the commoner daughter of a wealthy flour manufacturer, plans a break with tradition in the rearing of her first-born. Unlike imperial babies of the past, who were reared apart from the parents, he will be brought up in a nursery in the couple's new palace.

But bowing to other traditions, Akihito did not go to the hospital. He bid his wife "be brave" and remained in his palace and he sent her off to the hospital 5 miles away.

He hurried to the hospital after it was over, scarcely able to conceal from news and TV cameras his pride and pleasure.

Rate Hike On Bonds Approved

. . . By House Group

Washington (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee yielded partially Tuesday to President Eisenhower's demand for repeal of the interest rate ceiling on long-term government bonds.

Although its Democratic members split sharply, the committee approved a compromise bill which would give the Treasury wide, but not unlimited, latitude to market new bonds carrying more attractive yields.

Climaxing a year-long stalemate over the interest rate issue, the committee voted 18-7 to send the compromise to the House where a new battle is in prospect. Its fate in the Senate also is uncertain.

Seven of the committee Democrats voted against the compromise, and 8 for it. All 10 committee Republicans voted for the compromise.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said he still preferred outright repeal of the interest ceiling.

The committee did not grant President Eisenhower his request for repeal of the present 4¼% ceiling on the interest rates the government can pay holders of its long-term bonds maturing in five years or more.

But it approved a plan which would permit the Treasury in effect to circumvent the ceiling by increasing the yield, or net return, to bond investors even though the rate limit stays at 4¼%.

Harrison Out Of Race For 3rd Dist. Seat

Washington (AP) — Former Rep. R. D. Harrison (R-Neb) Tuesday bowed out of the political picture in the state's 3rd Congressional District.

"I have decided to take myself out of the race," Harrison said. "I plan to stay in the agricultural field."

Harrison, now a consultant with the Agriculture Department here, had said he was considering seeking the House seat again in this year's election.

He was defeated by Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb) in 1958.

Harrison said he had lunch with Loran Schmit, David City farmer, who has filed for the GOP nomination to run against Brock.

The former congressman said he would support the GOP candidate who is nominated in the primary election, but added:

Last Stronghold

London (AP)—Old-style vaudeville has lost its last international stronghold, the London Palladium.

From now on, the theater management said, it is switching to spectaculars halfway between musical and revue.

HOPE DIM FOR 106 IN MINE

Berlin (UPI)—A high East German official said that hopes were dim for the rescue of 106 coal miners trapped by fire in a gas-filled pit 1,100 feet underground in the Karl Marx mine.

Seventeen other miners were known dead in the disaster at Zwic Kau, 37 miles southwest of Leipzig. Fifty-one men were rescued but two died later.

Liberty Life Assets Show '59 Increase

Growth in both insurance in force and assets were reported by Lincoln Liberty Life President Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. at the company's annual meeting.

At the end of 1959 Bentsen reported assets in excess of $32,100,000 and life insurance in force exceeding $179,000,000. During the year accident and sickness premium income increased by 66%.

Bentsen stated that the projected growth and expansion during 1960 will see the company pass the $200,000,000 mark of life insurance in force and further increase in the amount of accident and sickness premium income is anticipated.

Kindly Critics

London (AP) — Following unanimous praise by London's theater critics, the directors of "Inherit the Wind" will transfer their production from a small suburban theater to St. Martin's in the heart of London's theater belt Mrch 16. The American play dramatizes the Scopes monkey trial of the 1920's.

Planet Venus Steam-Heated, Balloon Evidence Indicates

Baltimore (AP)—If there are any creatures on the planet Venus they'd need to be ones capable of living continuously in a super-heated Turkiy bath, a group of scientists indicated Tuesday.

The researchers, reporting on a Venus-studying balloon flight, said they had found the first definite evidence of water in the atmosphere of the earth's sister planet.

15-Mile Ascent

The researchers told about it at a special seminar at Johns Hopkins called to give details of the scientific results gleaned from a manned 15-mile high balloon flight made Nov. 28-29 by a Navy scientist and a civilian meteorologist.

Shortly after the balloon had come down from its 28-hour flight, project scientists reported they were pretty sure their instruments had solved the long-debated question whether the Venusian atmosphere contains water vapor.

It appears, they related, that there's a bit more water vapor above the cloud layer of Venus than there is above the high clouds present above the earth.

And it well might be, they related, that there's considerably more water vapor in the Venusian atmosphere lying between the surface of the planet and its dense cloud cover.

White Holiday Long-Lasting

Remember how you dreamed of a white Christmas?

Sixty days and 32-some inches later, you may have changed your mind.

The Lincoln Weather Bureau confirmed what Lincolnites have known for some time—that the city has had more than its fair share of the white stuff.

Since December 27, about 32 inches of snow has been recorded in Lincoln, including the latest snowfall of 2 inches. The snow arrived in 4 major storms of 5 or more inches, and 7 snowfalls of two or more inches.

Since Dec. 27, there has been some snow on the ground every day, and snow has fallen on 20 days.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbert left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Oldtimers Roar As Dean's Slips Aired

. . . BLATTNER, HARTNETT ENTERTAIN AT FEED

By Bob McCoy

The association ended last fall in a battle of words, with Buddy leaving the "Game of the Week" series to join the St. Louis Hawks and Cardinals broadcast networks.

Holds No Grudge

But Blattner 'forgot' the grundge Tuesday night, entertaining some 300 Oldtimer Baseball Assn. members with tales of Dean's most famous video foulups.

Baseball Hall of Famer Gabby Hartnett shared the Hotel Cornhusker spotlight with Blattner as the Oldtimers recorded their grandest feast on record.

Buddy remembered a telecast in Cincinnati when the Reds had a lineup with Ted Kluszewski, Bob Borkowski, John Wyrostek and Harry Perkowski batting in order.

It was Dean's inning and Buddy sat back and laughed, reporting Diz' commentary as:

When these 3 got on base to open an inning Diz was flustered.

Then Perkowski powdered a liner and the Gas-Houser, wary at reporting the action on the bases called it:

"She's a low liner to left center and here's the old Buddy to tell you all about it."

Called Hubbell Shots

Among Hartnett's most vivid recollections was calling shots for Carl Hubbell in the 1933 All-Star Game when King Carl fanned 5 rugged American League sluggers in order.

The Oldtimers paid tribute to Clarence Mitchell of Aurora, the former major league hurler who is recuperating from a second leg amputation and couldn't be on hand.

Sooners Commence

The Sooners are the second Big 8 school to join the spring head-knocking. Oklahoma State has been going for two weeks.

Pre-spring peeks at the Okies indicate Bud Wilkinson will have a solid nucleus returning from the club which was clobbered by Nebraska (say, that sounds strange doesn't it?) last fall, 25-21.

But the Sooner boss has lost some pretty good hosses. Absent will be 4 of the 5 leading rushers and scorers, the top passer, top punter, the top 3 pass receivers, and the top two punt returners.

Short Shots

Kudos to the TV industry for the excellent job it is doing in covering the Winter Olympics . . . It's a pity: that the Nebraska basketball team — Jerry Bush's admitted best, and a good club—isn't fighting for the Big 8 pennant. Wins over Iowa State and Kansas State showed what the Huskers should have done. But flags aren't won with erratic play . . . Charles (Hungry) Simon, and all of the Oldtimers at the tremendous banquet Tuesday night, report that Harry (Dusty) Miller, who died last week in Denver, was a great baseballer during his Lincoln youth . . . Incidentally, Pres. Joe Silverman and his aides did a bang-up job for the Oldtimers. Baseballer Gabby Hartnett and Radio-TV-er Buddy Blattner came through as the No. 1 Oldtimers program . . . Genial John Bentley, veteran NU tub-thumper, comes up with the best idea of the new year. "Don't tell me about the blizzard of '88," says John. "I'm starting a new club—for those who survive the Winter of 1960!"

Now Hear This!

Discontented Peru Readers, led by Don Rathbun—with the help of 19 other signers—apparently appreciate press clippings more than the final score.

Referring to the news story about Peru's 69-67 win over Nebraska Wesleyan last week, they take pot shots at Star Staffer Paul LeBar and demand to know if he is a "Wesleyan alum."

They continue: "While Peru won the ball game all the commentating seemed to be about the great play of Wesleyan and the great Rudy Stoehr . . . Why can't some of the other schools get a big writeup in the paper once in a while?? We are tired of hearing Wesleyan, Stoehr, Wesleyan, Stoehr . . . all the time . . ."

Comment: This type of "persecution" letter usually comes from the local high school set, but apparently the complex has spread to the college ranks. Mr. Rathbun & Co., must have overlooked the portion of Staffer LeBar's report which said Peru played so well that "Bobcat Coach Jack McIntyre left 6-8 Bob Buettgenbach on the bench." And I imagine Peru isn't the only NCC school this season to become "tired" of Stoehr and Wesleyan. At any rate, I can assure the "Discontented Readers" that LeBar definitely is not a Wesleyan alum. The veteran reporter of the NCC is an alumnus of Hastings College.

Russians Have Team Crown Secure; U.S. Skiers Fail

. . . AMERICAN FIGURE SKATERS STAR

Squaw Valley, Calif. (AP)—America's Carol Heiss, a captivating blonde queen of the ice, decisively annexed the women's figure skating championship Tuesday and gave the United States its first Gold Medal of the 8th Winter Olympics.

Seven hard falls plagued 26 girls as they jumped and spun on the glassy ice in free style skating. Two collapsed after they had finished due to lack of oxygen at the 6,000-foot altitude.

Tank Hopes Smashed

Russia, Norway, and Switzerland snatched other Gold Medals as American ski hopes were again smashed in the women's giant slalom.

With the competition half completed, Russia has the unofficial team championship secure with a total of 104 points against 49½ for second-place Germany.

Carol Keeps Promise

While adding the coveted Olympic championship to her 4 world championships, Miss Heiss kept a promise she'd made to her dying mother in 1956.

A brilliant figure in red, she skated as never before, and judges gave near perfect marks for her performances.

On performance 7 favored Miss Heiss and two were even.

Retain Women's Title

"I only wish my mother were here to share my happiness," she said.

Carol's routine included such spectacular maneuvers as a delayed axel, a double axel and a double salchow—a jump with a turn and a half, a jump with 3 full turns and a jump with one and one-3rd turns.

Yvonne Ruegg of Switzerland captured the women's giant slalom with a time of 1 minute 39.9 second, one-10th of a second faster than Penny, who was also second in the downhill.

The weather was favorable. It was cold — about 32 degrees — but the sun shone brightly, lighting up the white slopes studded with giant pines.

Betsy Snite, 21-year-older from Norwich, Vt., who fell in the downhill, kept her skis this time and finished 4th in the giant slalom at 1:40.4, just behind Bronze Medal winner. Mrs. Chenal Minuzzo of Italy,

Idaho Gal 36th

Buckeyes Make Jump To 2nd On AP Ballot

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, headed for its first Big 10 title in a decade, is top-ranked Cincinnati's new challenger in the Associated Press basketball poll, jumping past both Bradley and California.

The Buckeyes, unbeaten in the unpredictable Big 10 and 19-2 over-all made their move from 4th to second with 1,357 points, including 49 first place votes, in the weekly balloting by sportswriters and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday.

Cincinnati still has a comfortable edge, however, as the Bearcats retained their season-long No. 1 ranking with 66 first place votes and 1,560 points. Bradley dropped from second to 3rd, with 1,324 points, and California slipped to 4th, with 1,283 points.

There was a shakeup throughout the Top 10, although there was only one new entry as a result of the voting, which awards points on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc. Utah climbed 3 notches to 5th, leap-frogging Georgia Tech, which remained 6th despite a loss to Tennessee.

West Virginia dropped from 5th to 7th after losing to George Washington. Utah State, upset by Colorado State U., slipped one notch to 8th, while Miami (Fla.) went up one to ninth.

AP TOP 10

1. Cincinnati (20-1)	1,560
2. Ohio State (19-2)	1,357
3. Bradley (21-1)	1,324

Men's Bowling Starts Saturday

Grand Island — The Men's State Bowling Tournament, originally planned for the 4 weekends in March, is beginning Saturday because of an overload of entries.

A total of 1,850 singles, 925 doubles and 370 teams have entered, booting the list to the best in history. Lincoln has entered 55 teams and Omaha 40 in the tournament.

X, Bruiser Draw In Brutal Scrap

Doctor X and Dick the Bruiser chose to carry their grapple feud to the concrete floor of Pershing Auditorium Tuesday night and wound up in a dead heat.

After Bruiser tossed X over the ropes to the auditorium floor, he proceeded to apply some knee-drops from the ring apron.

Novak Takes Beating

Referee Tom Novak — who took a beating all night from the villainous pair—tried to get them back in the ring, failed, then counted to 10 and ordered a draw because neither was in the ring.

Dr. X had taken the first fall with an aerial backbreaker after first using a crumpled paper cup to irritate the Bruiser. Time was 12:06.

But the Bruiser regained his senses quickly, tore after the hooded monster, floored him a couple of times and finished him with a knee drop from the top rope in 4 minutes.

Fan Into Action

Von Krupp Winner

In the semi-finals Otto Von Krupp took his falls from Nick Roberts, the first in 4:16 and the 3rd in 6:23. Roberts won the second in 9:00 with a knee drop.

Ralston Finishes With 20-0 Mark

Lincoln Star Special

Syracuse — Ralston completed its regular season unbeaten by edging Syracuse 62-60 Tuesday night.

Ralston took an early lead, fell behind and then came back in the last quarter to notch its 20th straight win.

NU Frosh Sparkles During Postal Win

. . . GUNTER LANDS 4 FIRST PLACES

The University of Nebraska freshman track team annexed its second straight postal meet victory of the season with a 94-23 romp over Oklahoma's yearlings.

Again, NU's Ernest Gunter, a Philadelphia, Pa., product, dominated the victory parade. Gunter won 4 first places and was leadoff man for the winning mile relay team.

Gunter's :06.8 low hurdle time breaks the Big 8 record. The mark is shared by 4 Big 8 greats—Keith Gardner, Ernie Shelby, Billy Tidwell and Bob Derrick.

Gunter also did :06.2 in the 60-yard dash, :49.7 in the 440 and :07.4 in the 60-yard low hurdles.

Other NU winners were Ray Stevens (4:27.5 mile and 9:50.8 two-mile, John Silveira (1:14.8 600-yard run), Bill Kenny (2:23 1,000-yard run), Larry Donovan (12.8 pole vault and Fred Wilke (6-1 high jump).

The results:

PAIR TO MEET IN FINALS TONIGHT AT NORTHEAST

GARLAND AND PRAGUE PUMMEL OPPONENTS

With Don Beckman, Russ Krieser and Dan Kovar leading the way, Garland methodically carved its 16th win of the season.

Garland	18	15	20	22—75
Ceresco	10	6	13	19—48

Winners high—Don Beckman 16. Losers high—Gary Isaacson, Marlin Mendrickson 10.

Prague	22	25	30	20—97

Nebraskans Will Collide In Tourney

Lincoln Star Special

Des Moines, Ia.—Fairbury and Luther, both of Nebraska, will collide in the first round of the Region XI National Junior College Athletic Association tournament at North High School here Monday.

Other games pit Ellsworth of Iowa Falls, Ia. vs. Webster City, Ia.; Eagle Grove, Ia. vs. Waldorf of Forest City, Ia. and Grandview of Des Moines vs. Mason City.

Semifinals of the meet are Tuesday and finals Thursday. Tourney champion enters the national NJCAA meet at Hutchinson, Kan. March 15-19.

NP Star Andrews Honored

By Al Beebe

North Platte's senior ace, Larry Andrews, has been one of the most consistent performers during this prep cage season. His scoring average has hovered between the 15-20 point mark.

He saved his best work for Friday night's 82-64 win over McCook. That triumph knocked the Bison out of a West Big 10 co-championship.

Andrews started fast by scoring 24 points as the Platters raced to a big lead in the opening half. Although slacking off with the game in the bag, Andrews wound up with 35, just two points short of the Big 10 record.

Pius X—Mike Merwick hit 17 points, including layup in overtime which upset Omaha Cathedral, 47-45.

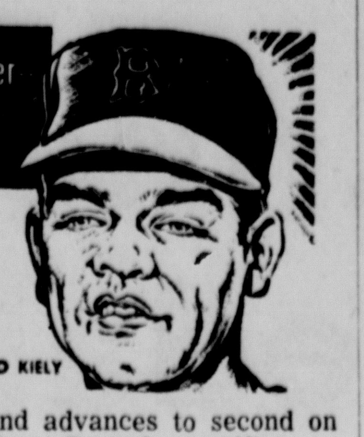
As a Hot Stove League Manager YOU CALL IT!

Eighth of a series



By Ben Olan

Although they finished a disappointing 5th last season, the Boston Red Sox made merry at the expense of the New York Yankees.

In winning their first season series from the Yanks in 11 years, the Red Sox won 13 games and lost 9.

What is your managerial IQ? In the following situation a sound bit of strategy pulled Boston out of a tight spot.

The scene is Boston's Fenway Park. It's the top of the 11th and the Red Sox and Yankees are tied 4-4.

Leo Kiely (L) is pitching for Boston. There is one out when Jerry Lumpe singles and advances to second on Ryne Duren's sacrifice.

Would you:

a. Let Kiely pitch to Bauer?

b. Have Kiely walk Bauer intentionally?

c. Bring in a right-hander to pitch to Bauer?

Result: b—Kiely walks Bauer intentionally. He then strikes out Siebern to end the inning. Boston wins 5-4 in the 12th on Frank Malzone's home run (April 19).

North Platte Gets Ex-GI Mentor Lee

North Platte (AP)—Jerry Lee, long-time Grand Island football coach, has been employed by the North Platte board of education as director of activities for the school system.

The position was created especially for Lee, who will do no coaching. He'll have supervision over all athletic and physical education programs, schedule all contests and sports as well as music and debate.

Liston Scores TKO

Plainsmen Can Steam To Title This Week

By Paul LeBar

Pete's club has the pressure on it while playing at Chadron Friday and Saturday.

"If we don't have to rely on a post man, I think we can beat 'em," Peterson suggested.

But the Plainsmen hadn't topped Hastings on the latter's floor for 6 years until turning the trick 79-70 last week, either. So Pete surmises:

"I'm so darned sick," moaned Miss Pitou at the finish. "I have a bad chest cold and can hardly breathe.

"The course was difficult and hard, and I slid on turns at every gate. I've been gulping pills by the handsfull to get up enough energy to compete in the race.

U.S. Skater 8th

Jeanne Ashworth, of Wilmington, Mass., making the best showing of any American girl in speed skating, finished 8th among a field of 20. Her time was 5:28.5.

Cornelia Harrington of Wayne, N.J. was 18th in 5:57.5, and Beverly Buhr of Northbrook, Ill. 19th in 5:03.1.

Tank Entries Fail

Pete Lahdenpera of Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. was 46th at 59:13.0; Olavi Hirvonen of Jeffersonville, Vt. 48th at 1:00:38.6 and Chuck Akers of Andover, Me. 50th at 1:02-:35.7.

Sox' Luis Aparicio Accepts Pay Boost

...KEYSTONE COMBO IS INTACT

Turned Down Pact

Luis, who topped the major leagues with 56 stolen bases last year, previously had turned down a contract which would have assured him $25,000 in take home pay.

Aparicio

Earlier the Sox had signed pitchers Rudolfo Arias and Ed Hobaugh to bring to 31 the number of players in tow.

Second To Fox

Luis finished second to Fox in the voting for the American League's Most Valuable Player.

The Sox have 8 players to sign, including outfielder Minnie Minoso and pitchers Dick Donovan and Turk Lown.

Doane Free Tosses Drop Concordians

Lincoln Star Special

Seward—Concordia won the field goal battle here Tuesday night, but Doane cashed 30 free throws to promote the Tigers to a 92-77 Nebraska College Conference victory.

Concordia hit only 7 of 19 free throws and finished the NCC season with a 3-15 mark. Victory gave Doane a 4-13 record. The Tigers finish Friday night at Midland.

Doane's Gene Velloff tossed in 38 points, 25 in the first half, to lead scoring. The St. Louis U. transfer now has 370 in 10 games.

Paul Kersenbrock added 18 and Noyes Rivers 16 for the Tigers while Bevan Etzler hit 28 and Bill Dieckhoff 19 for Concordia.

Water Pollution Control Aid Bill Vetoed

Washington (AP) —President Eisenhower, as expected, Tuesday vetoed a bill to boost from $500 million to $900 million federal aid for the next 10 years in controlling pollution of the nation's rivers and streams.

Eisenhower agreed that "polluted water is a threat to the health and well-being of all our citizens." But he said it is "a uniquely local blight" and the federal government should provide only "modest financial assistance" in combatting it.

The federal government's principal role as Eisenhower saw it is in research, technical assistance and dealing with interstate water pollution problems beyond the power of a single state to handle.

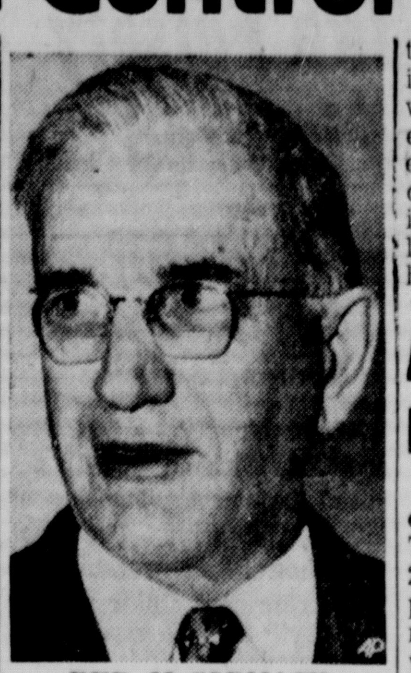
The House, in which the bill originated, immediately made plans to vote Thursday on overriding the veto. House Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts conceded, however, that it will be an uphill fight to muster the two-thirds majority required to override.

Hope For GOP Help

McCormack said that if the bill's backers can get some Republican votes it could be pretty close. Democrats are hopeful this will happen. They say some Republicans may not want to vote against a bill containing money for municipalities throughout the country.

Statistics on passage of the measure favor Eisenhower being sustained in his first veto of this year.

When the house passed the bill last year, the 253-142 margin was 11 votes short of the two-thirds needed to override a veto. The Senate vote of 61-27 was two more than the required two-thirds, but the Senate won't act on the veto unless the House votes to override it.



REP. McCORMACK

As passed in the face of administration opposition, the bill would continue and broaden the original 1956 water pollution act. It would raise from 50 million dollars to 90 million annually—over a 10-year period—the amount of federal funds that could be spent to help states and municipalities construct sewage disposal plants.

Limit Boosted

Under the bill, the limit of the government grant for any project would be $450,000 or 30% of the over-all cost, whichever is smaller. The present limit is $250,000 or 30%.

Backers of the bill say the extra money is needed because two-thirds of the nation's people get their drinking water from sources into which are discharged disease-carrying bacteria, viruses and toxic material. Most of the federal help, they said, is going to cities of 50,000 or less population who can't handle the problem alone.

McCormack, in commenting to reporters on Eisenhower's veto, said it "shows the Old Guard is in control of the Republican Party." Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said the bill would provide the minimum amount needed.

Omaha Route Procurement Underway

W. H. Mengel, director of the right-of-way division of the Nebraska Department of Roads, said there are about 400 to 500 parcels of land to be acquired for Route 3 from the interchange at 31st and Grover Sts. to the 28th and Dodge interchange.

The estimated cost, including land for the 31st and Grover interchange, is 12 million dollars, he said, and the funds have been set aside for this purpose. No time schedule for acquisition of all the land has been set up.

Several state offers to buy land between the two interchanges have been turned down, but no condemnation proceedings have yet been started. There have been condemnation proceedings started in cases west of the 31st however, he said.

Omaha Chamber To Work Against Air Service Cuts

Omaha (UPI)—The Omaha Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee Tuesday unanimously adopted a resolution to work closely with the State Aeronautics Board and affected communities in opposition to airline service cuts.

Frontier Airlines has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for suspension of the northern Nebraska local service route between Omaha and Casper, Wyo.

In the last 8 months the committee has gone on record several times in collaboration with the State Aeronautics Board and outstate communities in support of correcting airline service deficiencies.

Magazine Publishers Denied Injunction By Judge Van Pelt

Des Moines, Ia. (AP) — Federal Judge Robert Van Pelt Tuesday denied publishers of 22 magazines an injunction to prevent Iowa Atty. Gen. Norman Erbe from interfering with distribution and sales of the publications.

The judge said the only issue in the case as it came to trial was whether or not Erbe had pre-judged future issues of the magazines in requesting county attorneys last Sept. 1 to prosecute them under the Iowa obscenity law.

He held that Erbe did not, and said the fact that one of the magazines mentioned by the attorney general is still being sold in Iowa is evidence of this.

Erbe last September, in a letter to county attorneys, said that in his opinion issues of 42 magazines then on sale were obscene.

He asked the county attorneys to file criminal actions against the magazines if they appeared on newsstands around the state.

He also called Iowa magazine wholesalers into a meeting where he told them the state obscenity law would be enforced and asked them to remove from the newsstands the magazines he cited.

Four Star Publications of New York and 17 other publishers filed an injunction suit, contending Erbe's action applied both to magazines on sale in Iowa last August and to future issues of these same publications.

A similar suit also was filed by Knight Publishing Co. and Sir Kay Publishing Co., both of California.

The two actions were combined for trial.

'No Decision On Law'

In his ruling, Judge Van Pelt, of Lincoln, Neb., said he was making no decision as to the constitutionality of the Iowa law or whether any of the magazines involved actually are obscene within the meaning of the state statute.

He said he did not feel that a Nebraska judge should pass upon "common conscience of the southern district of Iowa or the whole State of Iowa.

"This court believes that eventually in the different localities of Iowa juries should determine in criminal cases whether any of the plaintiffs' magazines are or are not obscene," he said.

The judge indicated that the common conscience of various areas of the state may be the ruling factor in determining the question of obscenity.

Motorized Bathtub Makes 35-Mile-Trip Down Thames River

London (AP) — A motorized bathtub chugged down the river Thames and tied up near the Houses of Parliament.

Red-Eye Warning

Winnipeg, Man. (AP) — Never play cards for keeps with a red-eyed stranger. He might be wearing red contact lenses to spot otherwise invisible markings on the cards, warns Dr. George Jessen of Chicago, an expert on contact lenses. He says some U.S. optical companies are refusing orders for such lenses.

2 Oil Well Discoveries Completed

. . . In Western Area

Denver (AP)—Oil and gas well completions in the Rocky Mountain area last week totaled 77 despite slack drilling because of bad weather.

Petroleum Information, which gave these figures Tuesday, said the completions included 23 wildcats. Of these, 4 were discoveries, two for oil in western Nebraska and one in eastern Colorado, and a gas discovery in western Colorado.

Nebraska—Wyoming Western Oil, McDaniel Drilling and S. D. Johnson completed 1 Hoffman in Kimball County for a pump gauge of 600 barrels of oil per day with no water. The discovery is a mile southwest of the Hoffman Field and separated from it by a dry hole. The completion gauge was among the best recorded in western Nebraska. In Cheyenne County, Exeter Drilling and Falcon Seaboard Drilling set production casing at 5,455 feet at 1 Schuessler-State after a drillstem test of J sand recovered 135 feet of oil and 90 feet of oil cut mud in an hour and a half. The indicated discovery is a mile and a half north and slightly west of the Slama Field and about the same distance south of the Itner Field.

Boy Held In Slaying Of High School Girl

The body of Judie Anderson was found late Monday night on a bedroom floor of her parents' home. She had been bludgeoned with a rifle stock and stabbed 25 times on her neck and shoulders with a pair of two-inch manicure scissors.

Conservatives Admit London Towers Lean

So far, he made clear, the Italian city of Pisa has nothing to worry about. The famous Leaning Tower of Pisa, only 179 feet tall, leans 16 feet out of line and is still upright, if you call that upright.

"Both of our towers," said Hope, "are being kept under close observation. There is no indication that the tilt is of recent development in either case, nor is there any concern as to the safety of the towers."

Ed Sudman, 60, Dies; Keith Co. Clerk 25 Years

Mr. Sudman had entered the Ogalala hospital for treatment Jan. 26 and was dismissed last Saturday when he came here.

He was past president of the Nebraska County Clerks Assn.

Survivors include 4 brothers and 4 sisters. Among them are William Sudman of Omaha and a twin, Emil, of Wisner. Ed Sudman was unmarried.

ARGENTINA STILL HUNTS FOR SUB IN RELAXED FASHION

Buenos Aires (AP) — Argentine naval vessels continued the hunt for a submarine in the Golfo Nuevo Tuesday on a reduced scale. The Navy says there may not be a submarine there now.

The Navy announced Monday night that there had been no contact with any intruders for two days. Ships have blockaded the gulf 650 miles south of here since Jan. 10 in a hunt for a submarine that many Argentines felt never existed at all.

Some ships and planes have been withdrawn from the hunt in the 20 by 40 mile gulf Argentina claims as territorial waters, the Navy announced.

More Formosa Rice

Taipei, Formosa (AP) — An estimated 22 million dollar project to dig 1,750 water wells on Formosa is expected to increase the island's rice production by almost 300,000 tons a year, the government announces.

Packinghouse Workers Pick Rabbi Weinstein For Arbitor

Chicago (AP) — The United Packinghouse Workers Tuesday named a Chicago Rabbi who is a nationally known arbitor to a 3-man arbitration board which will settle the work status of strikers against Wilson & Co.

He is Rabbi Jacob J. Weinstein, who served as chairman of the War Labor Board panels from 1942 to 1945 and is a member of the National Panel of Arbitrators of the American Arbitration Assn. He has served for 21 years at K.A.M. Temple here.

Wilson has indicated a member of its legal department will be its representative. The union and company selections must agree on the third choice by Friday or he will be selected by Judge William J. Campbell of the U.S. District Court for the Northern Illinois District from among judges of the court.

The 108-day strike of 5,500 UPWA workers at 7 Wilson plants ended Friday with the workers issue still unresolved. Wilson recalled to work only 1,300 of the 5,500 who struck, having hired more than 3,000 replacements during the bitter walkout. To be arbitrated is whether the replacements should retain their jobs or be dismissed and the strikers rehired.

In its statements, Wilson has taken the position that no replacements should be dismissed. It suggested that strikers be recalled on a seniority basis when jobs open.

The Wilson plants involved are in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Albert Lea, Minn.; Kansas City, Kan.; Memphis, Tenn.; Omaha and South Omaha, Neb. and Los Angeles. The union won a two-year contract granting benefits estimated by the company at 22½ cents an hour and by the union at 25.25 cents. The hourly wage under the old contract was $2.56 an hour.

Gov. Docking Plans To Try For 3rd Term

. . . 'Unprecedented'

Topeka, Kan. (AP) — Kansas Democratic Gov. George Docking Tuesday announced he would seek an unprecedented 3rd term.

Docking, observing his 56th birthday anniversary Tuesday, is the first Democrat ever to be elected to two terms in Kansas. He is the first governor of either party to seek a 3rd term.

Docking, a Lawrence, Kan., banker, was the state's first Democratic governor since 1939 when elected to his first two-year term in 1956. He was re-elected by more than 100,000 votes in 1958.

The governor said "some progress has been made toward reaching the goal of fiscal sanity with efficient service in Kansas state government."

Petal-Pelted Nik Gets Island Eyeful

Bali, Indonesia (UPI) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev landed on this exotic Indonesian island Tuesday and strolled past bare-bosomed Balinese girls who pelted him with fragrant petals.

Roberts Enters No Contest Plea

Omaha (AP) — Roberts Dairy Co. changed its plea in Federal Court Tuesday from innocent to no contest on anti-trust charges filed by the government.

District Judge Richard E. Robinson fined the company $5,000. The government alleged that Roberts and two other dairies conspired to eliminate and suppress competition in the sale of milk and cream to the Offutt Air Force Base and Veterans Hospital here.

The Alamito Dairy previously had pleaded no defense and was fined $5,000. Beatrice Foods Co. of Council Bluffs, Iowa pleaded innocent.

Stock Prices Take Setback

New York (AP) — The stock market tried Tuesday to push its recovery drive into the 4th straight session but the effort failed and stocks ended irregularly lower. Trading moderated.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point or so were the rule among most key stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .80 to 217.70 with industrials off 1.20, the rails off 1.10 and the utilities up .10. Of 1,239 issues traded, 477 advanced and 524 declined. New highs for 1959-60 totaled 12 and new lows 17.

Corn Futures Hit New Low

Chicago (AP) — Three corn futures contracts traded at new low prices for the season at times Tuesday on the Board of Trade and all oil crop soybean months skidded to the brink of their lows.

Setbacks were general in all pits but wheat withstood the selling best and finished with small fractional losses. Steepest slides were in soybeans where March, May and July deliveries slumped more than two cents at the extreme.

Wheat futures closed ⅛-⅜ cent a bushel lower, March $1.99⅝-¾; corn ⅛-⅝ lower, March $1.11½; oats ⅛-½ lower, March 73 cents; rye ⅜-⅞ lower, March $1.24⅜; soybeans ¼-2⅜ lower, March $2.09⅞-10.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

If correct, is that description of much solace to the recent buyers who paid more for stocks than they could realize through sale or on collateral value in a bank loan?

The harsh fact is that today's stock quotations are always in precise balance with existing market gossip and speculative psychology.

Up to now, the visible news from the business world has fulfilled the earlier speculative optimism that vigorous recovery and growth were ahead.

The impulse to take profits or to hesitate before making additional commitments hasn't stemmed from any pessimism about the near-term business trend, certainly not in the six-month period directly ahead. There is, however, some tendency to scrutinize carefully the figures relating to the retail sale of automobiles, and many think that the trend shown in March will be significant. Optimistic expectations for the market were based on the belief that the expansion in auto sales would prove to be dramatic.

But it may be begging the question to shrug off the readjustment as merely "technical."

The function of the stock market is to relate prices to prospective business profits and occasionally to retrace steps to correct overdiscounting of prospective improvement.

The market has within itself remedial factors.

When there are runaway market prices, then it is difficult for even growth companies to increase earnings and dividends in tempo with advancing stock quotations. Accordingly, the yield or return on stocks declines significantly in such periods, and, as this column warned for many months, the market got into the abnormal position in which the yield on the best bonds was greatly in excess of the current return on stocks.

Also, in the process premier stocks sold on a much higher price-to-earnings ratio. Thus, while actual earnings were gaining, the market also used a more liberal multiplier in capitalizing earnings in market prices.

But at a moment when thoughtful and analytical investors were appraising the impact on international competition of new and improved plants and technology in Western Europe and Japan, with trends toward bigger domestic consuming areas, they were concerned about tendencies at home to price ourselves out of the market.

Though management in the steel industry attempted to focus public attention on this problem, the strike was settled more or less in the spirit of business as usual. The proponents of the adjustment took pride in the fact that the new increment, which carried U.S. costs further above the international level, were at a lower percentage rate than earlier increases.

This situation undoubtedly had some effect on stock market sentiment creating skepticism as to the earlier bull enthusiasm that prosperity would move uninterruptedly upward on a one-way street.

The constructive approach to differentials in cost is to find remedies other than impairing domestic living standards. One method is to eliminate waste through discontinuing feather-bedding, and another is to give aid and comfort to the cost sheet of American manufacturers by reducing taxes.

There will be progress when the unions and management recognize that they face a common family problem in struggling to maintain America's industrial position.

Another deterrent to indiscriminate buying of stocks has been the demand of the administration for a prudent budget, with a $4 billion surplus. This is different from the popular mood a year and a half ago when a Democratic Congress was elected, and speculators got visions of a fresh round of inflation.

To sum up, the lower base at which desirable stocks are quoted will make issues more appealing to analytical investors. The markdown of price tags makes meritorious issues more, not less, attractive.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

GOP Leader Takes Demos To Task

Washington (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) accused Democrats Tuesday of falsely picturing President Eisenhower as worshipping "an irridescent dollar sign in the sky" at the expense of national defense.

In polite but pungent language, Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, took Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to task for saying the Republican administration had been "willing to juggle the intelligence books to balance the budget books."

"It is best to be careful about throwing stones around in this man's town and in this political arena, because the book rises up to haunt one," Dirksen told the senate in a soft, paternal voice.

He said he is not going to remain silent while defense "becomes a political issue and it is made to appear that this administration and the present commander-in-chief are putting an irridescent dollar sign in the sky and are making that the point of worship, instead of our security and survival."

By advance planning, both Symington and Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had recorded their replies to Dirksen before the GOP leader got the floor to speak. The two Democrats, both considered among the leading runners for their party's presidential nomination, have been critical of the defense program for a long time.

Johnson arose as the Senate met to say "there are serious doubts among informed people whether we are doing enough fast enough" in efforts to close the missile gap with Russia.

Symington put out a statement reiterating his charge that the administration is misleading the country about the relative military strength of Russia and the United States.

Dirksen reminded Symington of several statements Symington had made to the effect that spending more money for defense than the country could afford, could "only end in national bankruptcy."

Court Axes Appeal In Will Probate

An appeal of a County Court order admitting to probate the will of the late Mrs. L. L. Coryell Sr. of Lincoln was dismissed Tuesday by Lancaster District Judge Paul White.

Mrs. Coryell's brother, Glen Parker of Santa Monica, Calif., had alleged in his appeal that the will was the result of "undue influence" and "fraud." County Judge Herbert A. Ronin had admitted the will to probate last Nov. 9 and had ruled that Parker had "no pecuniary interest" in the will.

Judge White sustained a motion filed by Pearl Parker of Denver, Colo., and Mary Bailey of Lincoln that the appeal be dismissed. They are, respectively, Mrs. Coryell's sister and her husband's niece.

Mrs. Coryell, who died last Sept. 17, was the widow of prominent Lincoln businessman L. L. Coryell Sr., who died in 1953.

She left half of her estate—on which no value as yet has been fixed—to the L. L. Coryell & Son Park Foundation Inc., which operates a park northwest of Auburn, and the other half in equal shares to Pearl Parker and Mary Bailey.

Elvis Presley Won't Change Style; He'll Make More Rock 'n' Roll Records

By Jack Koehler

Presley

Bad Nauheim, Germany (AP)—Elivs Presley, preparing to leave for the United States to get his Army discharge, said the first thing he is going to do is make more rock 'n' roll records.

"One thing is sure, I'm not going to change my style," he said in an interview when asked if he thought there had been many changes in music tastes during his two-year hitch in the Army.

"My friends in the states sent me clippings and the latest recordings to let me know what's going on back home," he said.

"I guess maybe it's possible that the style has changed a little bit, but then I really don't know about that."

"I've no reason to change," he maintained. "The people will let you know when you should."

Asked for more about his plans when he is discharged, Elvis said:

"Well, I plan to go home to Memphis, Tenn., for awhile and make some records . . . You know, I haven't made a record in the 17 months I've been in Germany."

He said he had "picked up a few good songs over here" and will record them.

He plans to go to Hollywood around April 20 to start rehearsing for his appearance on the Frank Sinatra television show scheduled for May 1. Then he will start pre-recording for a new movie, "The GI Blues."

Recalling his Army duty, much of it spent in combat exercises in Germany, Presley said, "I'm glad I'm almost through with it.

"But don't get me wrong . . . It was a good experience in many ways and I have made friends I would not have made otherwise. I'm very proud of having been in the Army.

"Regardless of what the future may hold for me, I'm glad I served my Army term the way I did rather than have something stare me in the face for the rest of my life."

Elvis is expected to leave for New York next week, but the exact date is a military secret because the Army doesn't want a teen-age riot scene such as greeted the singer when he arrived in Germany.

He has been serving with an armored division at Friedberg where he was recently promoted to sergeant and leader of a scout squad.

"Presley has done remarkably well both in his Army duties and off duty," said one Army officer.

"He made a fine soldier."

The payola scandal in the United States has hit the heavy-beated rock 'n' roll industry hard. Some pop music circles predict that radio stations—the main source for teen-age listening — will decrease their output in favor of less raucous fare.

Some alterations also have been noted in television.

Shih Hsiung, born in Nanking, China, translated the Chinese version of Benjamin Franklin's autobiography. It was a bestseller in China.

GNI Head Says Completion Of Route 3 May Be Slowed

Scottsbluff (AP)—Gene Kemper, Alliance publisher and president of Greater Nebraska Interstate, Inc., declared Tuesday Omaha may find it difficult to get the 45-million-dollar downtown Route 3 built with only 23% of Nebraska's Interstate money.

He referred to the formula under which 77% of Interstate funds are to be spent on rural construction and 23% on urban routes.

Kemper's remarks were prepared for delivery before the Scottsbluff Business and Professional Women's Club here Tuesday night.

Kemper said he would be surprised if the Omaha downtown route is "completed before 1970" and "that's 6 full years behind the 1964 completion date the State Highway Department had proposed as late as January of this year."

Credits Green

The Alliance publisher gave the credit to Dean Roy Green for dividing Nebraska's Interstate funds into two piles of money and establishing two separate priorities for urban and rural construction. Before GNI consultant Green's 23% urgan, 77% rural formula was approved by the highway commission and Governor Ralph Brooks, all outstate construction was stymied behind Omaha's Route 3 which was contained in the Milford-to-Iowa top priority, Kemper said.

"Now Omaha projects still are first priority but only in the urban category which will get 23% of the funds instead of 100% of early allocations. Omaha also must share the 23% with the 8-million-dollar Lincoln spur," he said.

"Since the rural portions of the Milford-Iowa segment now are being built, the switch engineered by Green for GNI virtually places Grand Island-North Platte construction first out for 77% of all federal-state funds," Kemper said.

Extra Funds

Acting State Engineer John Hassack admits that under the new setup Grand Island-North Platte can be built by 1964 and that considerable funds will be left over by that date to start the Milford-Grand Island sector," he declared.

"Thus," Kemper told his audience, "GNI has succeeded in moving outstate construction ahead 4 years all the way across Nebraska. Our research, checked by Dean Green, indicates that the Interstate now can be built to the Colorado and Wyoming state lines by 1971 or 1972, instead of the 1975 completion date estimated by the highway department in late January of this year."

Lincoln Star Special

Fremont — Nick Neff, Fremont automobile dealer, announced Tuesday that he will be a candidate for nomination to the 11th District legislative post being vacated by Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont.

Simmons, 34, son of Nebraska Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons of Lincoln, had announced Monday that he would not seek a third term in the Legislature.

The young attorney said he plans to devote his full time to private law practice in Fremont.

Neff, 51, has been in business in Fremont for 25 years as an automobile dealer and tire distributor.

A member of the Fremont City Council for 3 terms from 1941 to 1947, Neff was president of the Fremont Chamber of Commerce, 1949-50, and president of the Fremont Community Chest Board, 1952-53.

Moscow (AP) — Because Raoul Levy could not get permission from Red China to make a film about Marco Polo in Peiping, the French film producer says he hopes to make the Chinese scenes in southern Soviet Asia where inhabitants resemble the Chinese.

Russ Envoy Hits U.S. Trade Bars

Washington (UPI)—Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov has protested to the State Department what he calls American shipping restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union.

Menshikov told reporters his 45-minute call on Undersecretary Livingston T. Merchant was to "protest" regulations preventing cargoes from the Soviet Union from being delivered here in Soviet ships and requiring that U.S. cargoes to Russia be delivered in American vessels.

He said the regulations "interfere with trade" between the two countries.

The State Department had no immediate comment.
